GOVERNOR OPENS BEACH VIADUCT

WED SOON

A romance which waited through two Antarctic expeditions will be climaxed by the marriage December 19, of Ruth I. Johannesmeyer, of Meadville, Pa., to Paul Siple, Erie, Pa., Eagle Scout, who was selected from more than 800,000 Scouts to accompany the first Byrd expedition to the South Pole. He was chief biologist on Byrd's second polar trip.

Ship Owners Agree To Union's Terms

CONFERENCE IS HELD IN NORTH TODAY

Government Boat Slated to Leave Seattle for Alaska Nov. 30

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Maritime strikers broke through the united front of Pacific coast shipowners today when the Shipowners' Association of the Pacific capitulated to contract demands of the Marine Cooks' and Stewards' association in an agreement which may lead to waterfront peace.

Operate 70 Schooners
The Shipowners' association includes operators of about 70 steam schooners engaged in coastwise shipping, and represents 25 per cent of the employers who have been solidly resisting demands of seven striking unions.

The agreement was reached in the first successful peace conference since the strike was called October 25. The schoonermen granted the cooks and stewards preferential hiring and the eight-hour day. They previously had reached an accord on wage demands. Before the strike the schooner operators had granted wage demands to six of the seven unions involved.

Today the schooner men met with the seventh—the Masters', Mate's and Pilots' association—and if agreements are formulated conciliation between the coastwise shippers and strikers will be virtually completed.

One Union Involved
The move was hailed by the union forces as an indication that the shipowners' solid front was crumbling, but it was pointed out that it involved only 20 of the 80

RELIEF COSTS TO BE REDUCED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The administration plans to reduce federal relief spending at least 20 per cent next year by shifting its public work program from an emergency basis to a less costly means of fulfilling its objectives, the United Press was informed authoritatively today.

See Relief Drop
The new policy, made possible because officials predict relief rolls this winter will be 28 per cent below the depression peak three years ago, features three changes:

1. Revamping the Works Progress administration under Administrator Harry L. Hopkins to care for reduced need; cutting down administrative costs; curtailing WPA construction and stressing cheaper white-collar projects as skilled workers are called to private industry.

To Reduce Loans
2. Tapering off Administrator Harold I. Lick's federal loans and grants to political subdivisions for non-federal building; possibly using WPA to finance regular government activities such as flood control, reclamation and power development.

3. Continuing the Civilian Conservation corps and the National Youth administration, the latter under WPA.

1200 EMPLOYEES OF STEEL FIRM STRIKE

DETROIT, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Organizers of the United Automobile Workers association in General Motors plant met today to consolidate recent gains while 1200 employees in the Midland Steel company plant staged a "sit-down" strike.

Workers set down at their machines when officials of the U. A. W. A. and Midland representatives failed to reach an agreement on wage scales.

The Midland plant, whose parent concern has headquarters in Cleveland, O., manufactures automobile frames, principally for Chrysler.

Today's meeting of U. A. W. A. organizers was expected to be a prelude to a more intensive organization drive in all General Motors plants. Union officials said delegates were here "from all parts of the country."

EDWARD CUTS GARDEN WEEDS

VIRGINIA WATER, England, Nov. 28.—(UP)—King Edward VIII, an old sword in one hand and a hatchet in the other, chopped weeds right and left as he worked in the gardens of Fort Belvedere today with Mrs. Wallis Simpson.

Both the king and Mrs. Simpson are keenly interested in gardening and plan together how to improve the grounds of the king's estate.

The king and Mrs. Simpson, with other friends, planned to spend their usual week-end at Fort Belvedere. The king was scheduled to visit Windsor castle tomorrow afternoon but Mrs. Simpson was not expected to accompany him.

Premier Stanley Baldwin the church-going head of his majesty's government, who is known to be opposed to the king's association with Mrs. Simpson, had an audience with the monarch Wednesday. It was understood the king himself raised the question of Mrs. Simpson's divorce and was much upset by the prospect that the king's proctor might intervene.

The cabinet, according to reliable sources, discussed the legal aspects of the divorce yesterday but reached no decision and probably will consider the matter later.

COLUMBIA DEFEATS STANFORD, 7 TO 0

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Nov. 28.—(UP)—An 80-yard runback of the opening kickoff by George Furey, lightweight Columbia quarterback, gave the Blue and White a 7 to 0 triumph over Stanford today.

The 159-pound Columbia co-captain ran through the entire Stanford team without a man touching him. Arthur Waldo kicked the extra point.

The game was played in a swirling snowfall before a crowd of 35,000.

British Seek To Curb U. S. Movies

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The board of trade made further recommendations today in the latest move of the film industry's drive to end American domination in British motion pictures.

The committee published a report envisaging a future in which the British film industry would have a 50 per cent quota of all pictures shown in theaters of 20 per cent.

The board recommended also that the government take steps to finance the British film productions and that the present quota system be extended to years.

The members recommended in addition that a commission be set up to study the industry's appointment to deal with quota questions.

DRILLING OF STATE WELLS IS PROPOSED

Governor Merriam Favors Using Revenues to Cut California Deficit

LONG BEACH, Cal., Nov. 28.—(UP)—A proposal that the state drill on its own wells on state oil tidelands today by Gov. Frank F. Merriam in a press statement, announcing he would not ask for a tax increase in his budget message to the legislature.

Merriam said he would ask the legislature to authorize state drilling and apply the revenues to the state deficit.

"I expect to recommend to the legislature next month that the state do its own drilling in connection with development of tideland oil deposits," the governor said. "The state is entitled to the revenue from its own land and I shall propose to the legislature that we proceed to drill our own wells."

"Substantial oil revenue would be a material assistance in wiping out the existing state deficit," Merriam explained that his budget message contemplates no increase in taxes.

"I am planning to hold the general fund expenditures to the current level and avoid any tax increases insofar as state operating expenditures are concerned," he said. "Revenues are coming in at a gratifying rate, due to the general increase in California business."

Merriam was prompted in the decision to have the state drill its own wells by the defeat in the recent election of a proposition, authorizing the lease of tidelands to private companies who would have paid the state approximately 14 per cent of all oil removed. Legislative opponents of the measure contended the state should have been guaranteed between 40 and 50 per cent.

REBEL UNIONS PLAN WEEKLY

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 28.—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor executive council undertakes today the task of facing mounting obstacles—the orders of its 56th annual convention to offer new peace proposals to the John L. Lewis rebels.

The chiefs of the rebel Committee for Industrial Organization, demanding reinstatements as the first move toward peace, offered slight hope of return to the federation. Increasing the difficulties of reconciliation was disclosure of plans of the C. I. O. leaders to intensify their battle by publication of a national weekly newspaper at White Plains, N. Y.

High sources among rebel sympathizers asserted that the typographers soon would follow the lead of their president, Charles P. Howard, in affiliating with the C. I. O.

William Green was re-elected president yesterday. Denver was chosen as the 1937 convention city.

HUGH JOHNSON, BROWN TO WRITE REGISTER ARTICLES

Thoughts and observations of two of the best-known newspaper columnists in the United States will be available to readers of The Register beginning next week. The editorial comment will be that of General Hugh S. Johnson and Heywood Brown.

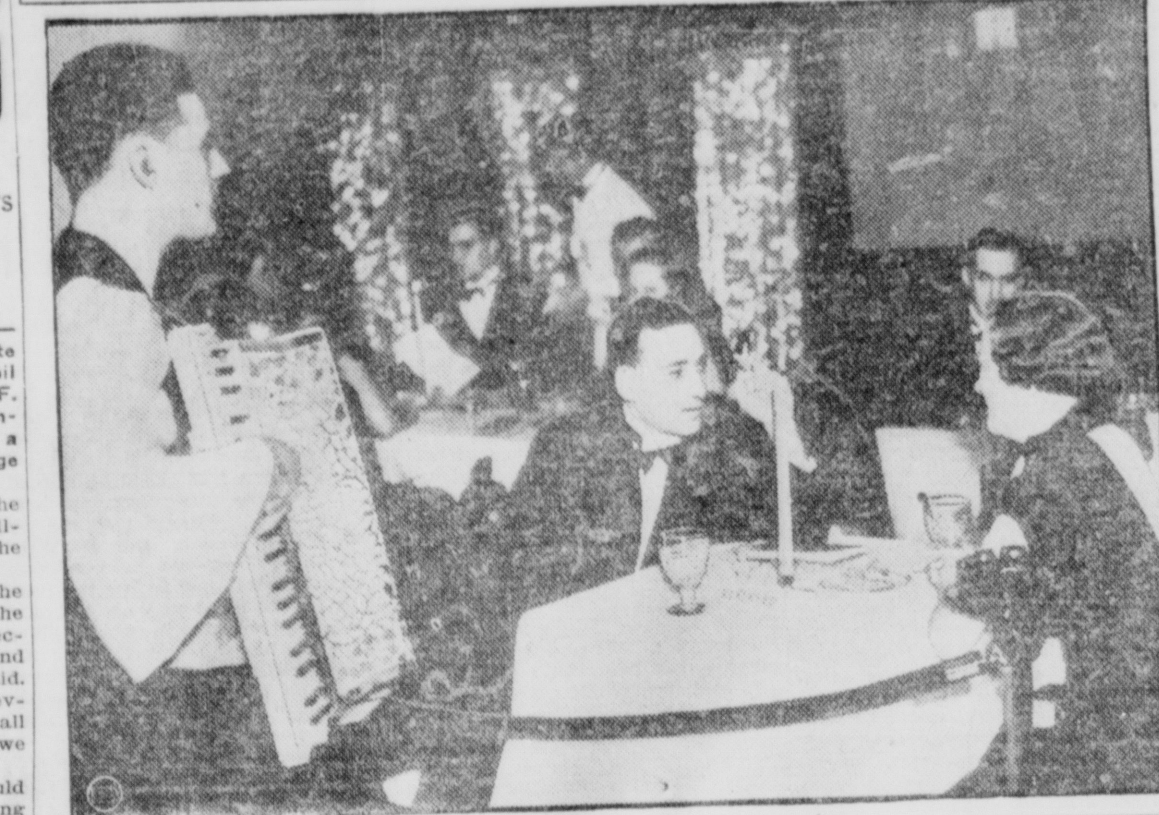

While Brown, of course, has been one of the outstanding newspaper writers and columnists for years, Johnson is comparatively new, and it is characteristic of Johnson that he slapped and banged his way into the hearts of readers and thinkers to the extent that today he is recognized as an outstanding critic of all things that obstruct the path to common betterment.

Although both Johnson and Brown write daily columns, they will be alternated in The Register in accordance with the general interest of things mentioned in their columns. Under the arrangement by which The Register was fortunate enough to accommodate its readers in this respect, Johnson's column will make the first appearance.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT CLUB SCORES HIT

Just another bibulous night spot, a casual observer might say, but the one in this scene isn't. It's believed to be the first college-sponsored night club in the country, launched at the University of Iowa, in Iowa City. It has soft lights, music, dancing, floor shows, excellent food, and all the other ingredients—except liquor. Even beer is barred. A campaign led by Editor Jess Gorkin of the Daily Iowa resulted in the opening of the "Silver Shadow". Gorkin is shown in foreground with Miss Dorothea Carlson. The musician is Donato Petrucci, all entertainers and waiters being students.

QUESTION S. A. MAN ON TICKETS

Suspected by police of being one of the leaders of an organization which printed thousands of lottery tickets based on the Christmas day race at Santa Anita track and smuggled them from Mexican printing plants into the United States, Henry W. McKague, Santa Ana man and former deputy sheriff here, living at 908 South Van Ness, was arrested by local authorities last evening for questioning by Los Angeles police.

Former Investigator
The arrest of McKague, former investigator for the federal alcohol tax unit and former special officer at a local night club as well as former deputy sheriff under Sheriff Ana and McKague was taken to Los Angeles last night.

McKague is the seventh man taken into custody by federal and county authorities of Los Angeles in connection with an investigation of the asserted sweepstakes ring which recently attempted to flood the Pacific coast with lottery tickets, assertedly smuggled across the border at El Paso and other Texas border cities.

Find Tickets in Seattle
Additional arrests were reported near, with officials of several counties under suspicion, Inspector Norris Stensland of the Los Angeles sheriff's office reported. Although the lottery at first had been believed confined to Southern California, reports from Seattle yesterday, said 4000 ticket books with potential value of $48,000 had been seized there and two men taken into custody. More than 18,000 tickets have been confiscated in Los Angeles but it is believed

BRIT BROTHERS ON TRIAL MONDAY

YREKA, Cal., Nov. 28.—(UP)—John and Coke Britte, Horse Creek brothers accused of slaying two county officers and a deer hunter, believe they will be acquitted but are showing traces of strain as the date for their trial approaches. It was learned today. The trial is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. Monday.

Meanwhile, J. Everett Barr, defense attorney announced he will use eight witnesses in an attempt to prove the contention that the defendants acted in self defense when they shot the trio at their open camp last August.

The brothers' mother moved into town yesterday and will remain at the home of a friend during the trial.

FLAMES DAMAGE OCEAN PARK PIER

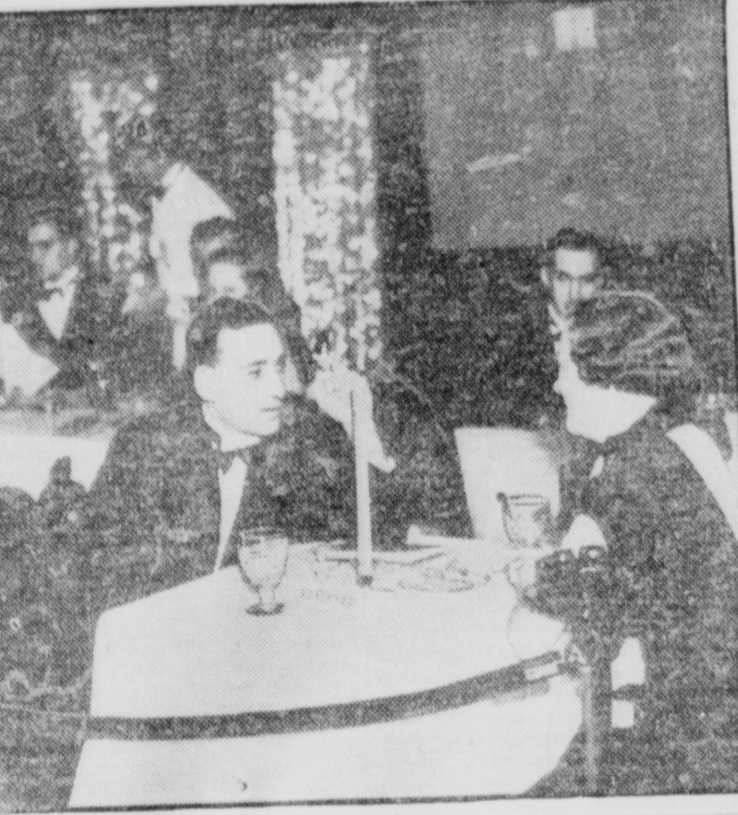

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Fire, believed caused by a short circuit, early today swept over the end of the Ocean Park pier, destroying the chute-theater concession at the end of the structure.

The blaze was visible for many miles as the flames were reflected by the ocean. A half-dozen engine companies fought the blaze for several hours, confining it to the end of the pier.

Santa Claus Breaks Leg In Plane Jump

COALDALE, Pa., Nov. 28.—(UP)—A heavy atmosphere of sorrow hung over the youth of Panther Valley today. Santa Claus broke his leg in a parachute jump.

Santa Claus—George Jetland, of Berwick, sure by a department store—forgot traditional reindeer for a more modern arrival by airplane.

He leaped from an airplane over an athletic field where an anxious crowd of youngsters awaited him. A strong wind carried him three miles off his course and into a coal car.

JAPAN, ITALY IN AGREEMENT

ROME, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Authoritative sources said today that a statement announcing Japan's recognition of Italy's conquest of Ethiopia and Italy's recognition of Manchukuo, Japan's puppet state seized from China, was expected at any time.

It was reported that Italy would announce appointment of a consul general at Hsinking, Manchukuo, and Japan would announce transformation of its legation at Adulis, Ababa, Ethiopia, to a consulate. Announcement of initiation of Japanese-Italian trade negotiations also was expected.

BOY FILM STAR GETS BODYGUARD

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28.—(UP)—A bodyguard has been assigned Freddie Bartholomew, 12-year-old movie star, because of threats of $50,000 kidnap-extortion plot against him, it was reported today.

The threat was said to have been received 10 days ago by Miss Millie Bartholomew, middle-aged aunt of the boy, and friends quoted her as saying she believed it to work of a crank.

The threat was in a note, it was reported, which was mailed to Mr. Bartholomew. Unverified rumor were heard that the note had been placed in the hands of federal agents for investigation.

Spokesmen of the boy actor's studio said they could neither confirm nor deny the reports.

COUNTY AND STATE HEADS AT NEWPORT

Officials Are Guests at Yacht Club Luncheon Before Ceremony

Gov. Frank Merriam officially opened the new $180,000 Newport viaduct at 2 p. m. today while city, state and county officials and newspapermen assisted in the ceremonies.

Traffic Speeded Up
Work on the state construction project was completed several weeks ago and the viaduct opened to traffic. With the opening of the new route, traffic through the intersection at The Arches has been speeded up and the safety factor increased.

Before the formal ceremonies that officially opened the viaduct were held, Governor Merriam and other officials and newspapermen were guests at a luncheon in the Newport Harbor Yacht club at 12:30 p. m. S. A. Meyer, president of the Newport Harbor Chamber of commerce presided. After lunch the guests were taken for a ride around the harbor.

Stanton Presides
P. A. Stanton, representing the State Highway commission from this district, was master-of-ceremonies at the viaduct opening. Other officials taking part in the dedication included the following: Harry Hopkins, chairman of the State Highway commission; William T. Hart, of Carlsbad; Julius Roussel, secretary of the commission; S. V. Cortelyou, State Highway engineer; Earl S. Anderson, aide to Governor Merriam; Justus Craemer, deputy Director of Public works; Earl E. Kelley, Director of Public works; Maynard Edwards, O. Noy, Pasadena; E. B. Cridde, Riverside; Carl Fletcher, Long Beach; mayors of all Orange county municipalities; Orange county supervisors, John Mitchell, N. E. West, W. C. Jerome, LeRoy Lyon and Willard T. Smith; Senator Nelson T. Edwards and Senator Elect Harry Westover. Assemblymen Ted Craig and James B. Uff, Assemblymen-elect Thomas Kuche and Clyde Watson.

RUSSIA BOOSTS NAVY STRENGTH

MOSCOW, Nov. 28.—(UP)—V. R. Orlov, commander in chief of the navy, disclosed to the all-Union Congress of Soviets today a gigantic increase in Russian naval strength.

Percentages Outlined
Delegates of the republics of the Russian federation, of many racial strains and tongues and clad in the colorful garb of their regions, listened absorbed as Orlov outlined the percentages the tremendous jump in the Russian navy, matching that of the army, which has given the country the most powerful military machine in the world.

He gave the percentages of increase from January 1, 1933 to January 1, 1936, as:

Submarines, 75 per cent;
Other warships, 300 per cent;
naval aviation, 510 per cent;
naval bases, 100 per cent;
Coast defense, 155 per cent.

He left it to his hearers—and to naval chiefs of Germany and Japan—to estimate what Russia has done in the 11 months since last January, months in which its leaders have made no secret of their belief that Germany and Japan intend to attack Russia.

It was reported that Italy would announce appointment of a consul general at Hsinking, Manchukuo, and Japan would announce transformation of its legation at Adulis, Ababa, Ethiopia, to a consulate. Announcement of initiation of Japanese-Italian trade negotiations also was expected.

NAVY WINS OVER ARMY TEAM, 7-0

MUNICIPAL STADIUM, Philadelphia, Nov. 28.—(UP)—A concerted fourth period attack gave Navy a 7-0 victory today over Army before a thrill-bound crowd of 101,000, largest eastern football gathering of the year.

The lone touchdown came in dramatic fashion and was a direct result of pass interference. Navy's Bill Ingram had skied a long pass to Irvin Eike, but the officials ruled Smith, Army guard, guilty of hitting the would-be receiver.

This put the ball under the shadows of Army's goal posts and a moment later Sneed Schmidt plunged over center for a touchdown.

JUSTO INVITED TO VISIT U. S.

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 28.—(UP)—President Roosevelt, steaming today down the east coast of South America toward Buenos Aires for the Inter-American Conference for peace which meets next week, revealed that he has formally invited President Augustin P. Justo to visit the United States.

He said prior to departing from Rio de Janeiro last night that he also hoped President Getulio Vargas of Brazil could repay his visit to these American countries below the equator.

The president, putting his "good neighbor" policy into effect in person by his voyage on the U. S. S. Indianapolis, evinced the aspiration that the chief executives of the Americas on this continent would keep the spotlight on this present good-will in the western world aglow by returning his neighborly calls.

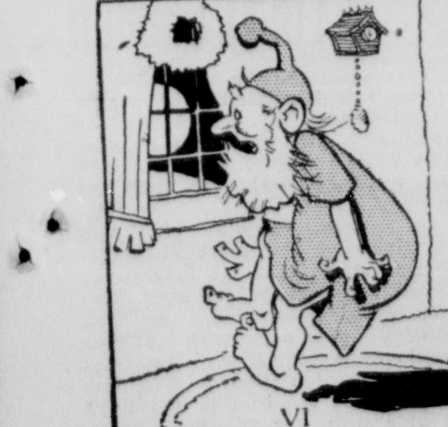

The Indianapolis sailed from Rio de Janeiro at 10 p. m. after a day of gala receptions by Brazilians to the North American president.

President Roosevelt is scheduled to reach here Monday aboard the Indianapolis, conveyed by the U. S. S. Chester.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the United States delegation to the conference for the maintenance of peace in the western hemisphere have arrived.

REGISTER SIGNS JOHNSON, BROWN

The United Feature syndicate, from which Johnson's column was acquired, has the following to say concerning the value of the noted writer's observations:

Vital, Sudden Events

"These are days of vital and sudden events, days of free-for-all fighting for power. Both incident and motive are view until it is too late to alter the one or thwart the other. At such a time there is need for a trained observer who can divine the play before it develops to the dangerous stage, and for a writer who has both the courage and the skill to expose it. Such a man is General Johnson. He knows what's going on, he knows what it means. And with the swinging power and ringing eloquence that has fired his speeches, he will in his succinct and straightforward column, tell you what it means."

Pegler Comments

Westbrook Pegler, another noted columnist, who knew General Johnson when he was called "Old Ironpants" around the NRA headquarters in Washington, recently made the following comment about Johnson's writings:

"Aside from his experience and reading, which are great equipment for his job, I like Old Ironpants' column for the wild, somewhat hilarious joy with which he sails into an argument. Sometimes it is a little cruel, because he is such a tremendous puncher and, like Dempsey, once that bell rings, he knows nothing but punch, punch, punch until something drops. He loves to tackle those stiff, straight-up-and-down, stylish debaters who use the fancy words"

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—It certainly is a great change from pre-election days to see the Chamber of Commerce, and other big business organizations, enthusiastically co-operating with President Roosevelt on his re-employment plans. . . . Sure is a relief to see government and business walking side by side, without stepping on each other's toes.

Things look definitely brighter for the future, now that business is getting more orders from the customers, and fewer from Uncle Sam. From the way the college professors have been leaving the cabinet, and business executives are being consulted, apparently the New Deal has finished its education, and is now started on a practical career.

Yes sir! Since election, the only downward trend seems to be that of the thermometer.

'MASTER-MINDS' HARD AT WORK

New Fangled Putters Do Everything But Play Golf

BY HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 28.—If man gave as much of his time, brains, and energy to say, engineering or medicine, as he does to the development of a foolproof golf putter the world would be a much more wonderful place in which to live.

But man hasn't time for such trivial matters when it is still possible to miss a three-foot putt. I fell into this line of thought today after a peek into the professional's shop at the Pinehurst Country club. I never saw as many putters—as many different kinds—as I have in my life. There were entire walls of them. There were short putters, long putters, square putters, round putters, goose-neck putters, swan-necked putters, and putters with no necks at all. There were Schenectady putters, Oshkosh putters, Oklahoma City, Des Moines and Birmingham putters.

There were putters for fat men, skinny men, normal shaped men, and men with no definite classification. A man from Mars could drop in the place and, five minutes after introducing himself, be outfitted with just the kind of putter somebody thought he should have.

The two latest additions to the putter racks were the "door knob pendulum" and the "steam roller." The names are my own, and were coined after a careful study of the rather involved mechanics of the green's pieces.

The "door knob pendulum" is just that. On top of the shaft is a knob of heaven knows what composition, just about the size of an adult door knob. Each "door knob pendulum" is accompanied by a book of instructions, and from a reading of this I gathered that to put the putter in play you turn the left hand palm upwards, slide the shaft between the index and middle fingers, and allow the knob to rest lightly in the palm. That ends the work of the left hand. With the knob and palm acting as a socket, the putter is moved with the right hand, and the ball stroked.

"Wild Bill" Mehlohn used this putter in the recent P.G.A. tournament, and as he lasted until the semi-finals, it must have its merits. But it seems to me that it would be much simpler to have one of those big grandfather clocks in your bag and let it do the putting. When the green was reached the case could be knocked off, and the clock placed directly behind the ball. Then the swing of the big pendulum would knock it in.

The "steam roller" putter is a honer. It is quite a bit like an ordinary putter in appearance until you pick it up by the seats of its pants and make a survey. Running the length of the blade is a little roller about the size of a lead pencil. The idea supposedly makes it impossible to stub a putt. As if anything in the world could prevent duffers from stubbing. You could put a small automobile on the bottom, with a living driver in the seat to guide the ball, and duffers still would miss short ones on every other hole. I know, because I'm a duffer. That is, if an average round of 112 makes a guy a duffer.

The sure cure for poor putting among duffers isn't new-fangled putters. The master minds of the game are looking in the wrong direction. Gene Sarazen had the right idea several years ago when he advocated larger cups, only he didn't go far enough. The cups he suggested were only an inch or so larger than the standard ones. What we need is not a cup, but a bucket. And a five gallon one at that.

The Mixing Bowl

By Ann Meredith

Ham, baked or boiled, hot or cold, is always a mouth-watering picture when the firm pink slices fall under father's keen carving knife. Yet, haven't we all seen ham—good ham—that was the opposite of all these enticing attributes? Let's see what it takes to produce this "firm juicy ham."

First of all, I believe that it is economy to buy a whole prime ham, because the initial cooking is all there is to preparation, but there are so many things you can do with the cooked ham, so many meals at which it can appear. To prepare the ham, scrub it well with a stiff brush, rinse in hot water and soak all night in cold water. Cook it in a kettle deep enough to permit immersion in water. Season the water with 2 bay leaves, 2 sliced onions and 1 clove garlic, 10 peppercorns, 1 cup brown sugar, and your choice of these things: 1 quart hard cider, 1 pint sour red wine (cheap cooking claret) or 1 cup vinegar. Boil at a gallon for 30 minutes, then simmer, slightly covered, until a fork will pierce the flesh, not too easily (slightly underdone). Cool the ham in the liquid, turning once. Remove from kettle, take off skin, and rub clove flavored brown sugar into the fat. Place in a baking pan, dust fat with fine toast crumbs and let the ham warm through in a medium oven, as the sugared top browns into crisp lusciousness. Smoked shoulders (picnic hams) respond beautifully to this considerate treatment and are just the size for the small family. . . . and, of course, there's nothing in the book that says you can't cook half of a ham.

Bake or boil dham should be graced by only the finest relish. This is one of the best of them: Turn a glass of currant or grape jelly into a bowl and beat with 2 heaping tablespoons prepared mustard. Set the bowl in the icing chamber to chill the jelly before serving. Taste, and "sum-shus" is the word!

Today, a stamped, self-addressed envelope mailed to me brings you the Safe and Sane reducing program.

LOCAL CHURCH TO HOLD EIGHT DAY MISSION

In keeping with the plan of the National Preaching Mission to have local preaching missions in the individual churches, following the National Preaching Mission in Los Angeles, the First Christian church will observe an eight-day preaching mission from November 30 to December 6.

Plans have been laid to make this local mission one to be remembered. Guest speakers have been provided for each night during the mission, and will bring inspiring messages, said a church announcement today. All members of the First Christian church are especially urged to back up this program and all friends and neighbors are invited.

Following is the partial schedule of speakers: Monday, Nov. 30—The Rev. David Sayers, minister Orange Avenue Christian church, Santa Ana.

Tuesday, December 1—The Rev. Carlton Buck, minister Christian church, Arlington.

Wednesday, Dec. 2—Dr. Anderson, professor at Chapman College, Los Angeles.

Thursday, Dec. 3—Mr. Neal K. McGowan, state secretary, Los Angeles.

Friday, Dec. 4—The Rev. Morris Schollenberger, minister Christian church, Anaheim.

COURT REFUSES TO DROP LIBEL SUIT

Motion by counsel for William Iverson, of the Eden Refining company, to dismiss the $10,000 libel suit filed against him by the Orange County Publishing company, was denied by Superior Judge G. K. Scoville yesterday.

The motion was based on alleged failure of the publishing company to file the $500 bond required by law to accompany the filing of libel suits. However, the bond was filed yesterday, just before the time limit for its filing was reached.

The libel suit was brought against Iverson after he had inserted an advertisement referring to the plaintiff's publication as a "scandal sheet."

ARREST MOTORISTS AS DRUNK DRIVERS

Two men were arrested on Santa Ana thoroughfares last night and jailed on drunk driving charges. Andrew Uren Jr., 25, Los Angeles, was pronounced "very drunk" after his arrest at Main and Walnut streets, about 7:15, by Officers W. E. Moreland and P. L. Grouard. His car was impounded and a "hold" order entered against it because it assertedly lacked brakes.

At 12:10 a. m. today, Fred H. Epperly Jr., 21, 832 South Philadelphia, Anaheim, was arrested at Sycamore and Fairview, by Officers Paul Cozad and Burnette Lane, and charged with drunk driving. He was pronounced "moderately drunk."

DUELS STOPPED BY BUDAPEST POLICE

BUDAPEST, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Police brought the dueling saga of Dr. Franz Sargis to an inglorious end today, saying "this nonsense has to stop."

The sudden denouement of his marathon dueling tournament left Sargis without means of satisfaction against the 100 or more enemies who insulted his honor by criticizing his marriage to Budapest's most popular belle.

It also left him penniless, without a job, threatened with disreputation, and expecting to become a father within the month.

The police weren't worried about anybody getting hurt in the duels as one of Sargis' seconds had explained—speaking as the man who loaded the weapons and who put safety knobs on the saber points—that there wasn't much danger. But they called the duels off because of the publicity.

MORGAN FAMILY AT S.A. CHURCH SUNDAY

A special service will be held at the Four Square church, Fairview and Sycamore streets, Sunday night at 7:30, when the Singing Morgan family, radio artists, will be present to entertain with many musical numbers.

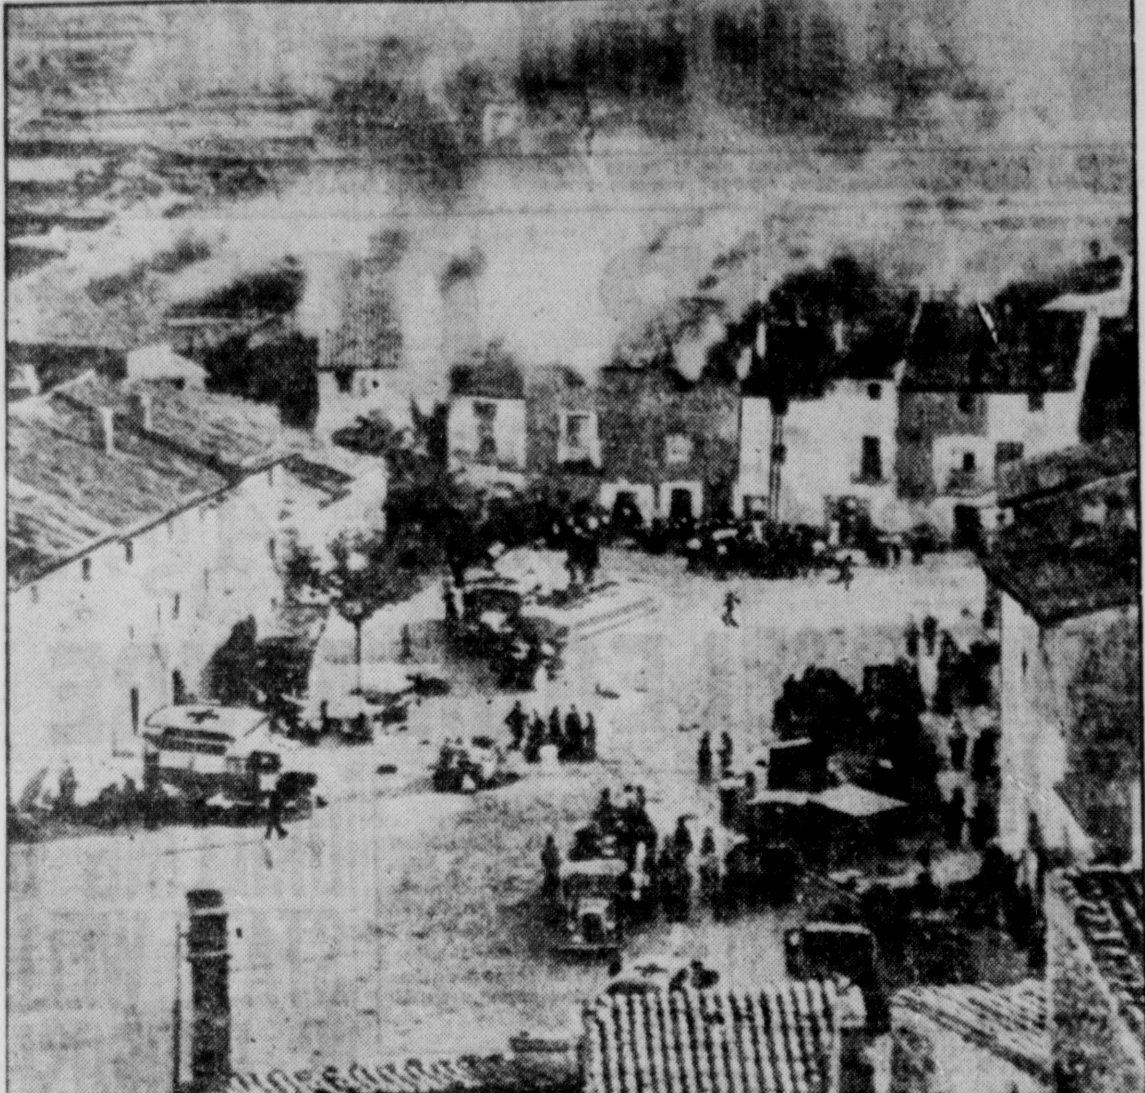

The Morgan family if eight children, their ages ranging from 15 years down to four years, have gained radio fame throughout Southern California, it is said.

After the musical program a short sermon will be preached by the Rev. Alice W. Parham, on "The Laughing Fool."

HELD AS A FUGITIVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Fleucher Poucher, 36, was held today as a fugitive from Los Angeles, where police said he was wanted for evading $10,000 bail two years ago. Only yesterday she put up $500 bail on federal charges of making a false passport statement.

In Wake of Air Raiders During Drive on Madrid

The larger part of the output was sent into the northwest.

The worthless tickets, sold for $1 each, promised winners from $100 to $50,000, Stensland stated.

According to officers' allegations, McKague lost his job as a federal man when he was found rooming with another man he was sent to arrest on a bench warrant.

After questioning last night in Los Angeles, McKague was freed on his own recognizance pending further developments of the case, officers revealed. McKague was ordered to reappear in Los Angeles Monday morning.

When a teletype message came to Sheriff Logan Jackson yesterday afternoon, he telephoned to McKague and ordered him to appear at the sheriff's office. McKague appeared and was escorted to Los Angeles by Sheriff Jackson, who attended the questioning but said he was not at liberty to divulge details of the McKague interview.

"The point I want to get over to the people of Orange county is that this is one of the greatest frauds ever perpetrated upon the people here and elsewhere along the west coast," Sheriff Jackson declared.

COLLINS TWINS ON BUREAU'S PROGRAM

Miss Katherine Collins and Miss Ellen Collins, of Anaheim, known to movie and radio fans as "The Collins Twins," will be an added attraction of the musical entertainment at the 18th annual conventions of the American and California Farm Bureau Federations at Pasadena the week of December 6, Frank S. Pierce, of Santa Ana, announced today.

Pierce, who yesterday announced the program for the concert that will open the sessions of the federations at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 6, in the Pasadena municipal auditorium, said the Collins sisters would appear at the initial musical presentation.

Soloists who also will be on the program, will include Frank Newcomb, Riverside, and Frank Cooper, of Tulare.

Pierce also said that a well-known metronome news company plans to film parts of the program during the week for reproduction on the talkie screen. Parts of the program and business sessions, he said, also would be picked up and broadcast on NBC and CBS hookups.

All 1937 models of Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick, La Salle, and Cadillac will be displayed at the General Motors Show of 1937 in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York City, November 11 through 18.

OWNERS, UNION IN AGREEMENT

steamship lines and one union out of seven.

However, the capitulation did involve a "fundamental" issue of the strike as listed by the unions, and that issue, the eight-hour day, was conceded by the seamen's lines.

MATSON LINER ARRIVES AT S. F. FROM HAWAII

The Matson liner Monterey docked here today with 447 passengers aboard who were "stranded" in Hawaii by the maritime strike. The vessel was the first to reach the mainland from the islands in days.

While 20 police officers kept watchful eyes on the work, union longshoremen unloaded a cargo of mail while the passengers made their way through the customs. Disembarking proceeded in an orderly manner.

ALASKA PACKERS' BOAT CHARTERED BY GOV'T.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The government today pressed a federal boat into service to leave Seattle about November 29 to carry foodstuffs to Alaska.

Secretary of Interior Harold I. Ickes said the Boxer, a vessel operated by the office of Indian affairs, will carry supplies to Sitka, Cordova, and the Aleutian Islands, cut off from the U. S. since start of the maritime strike four weeks ago.

Ickes said he had also completed arrangements with the Alaska Packers' association to charter the 375-foot ship, The Arctic, to carry additional supplies to Alaska.

GARDEN GROVE MAN ON COMMITTEE TO RECEIVE WALLACE

John W. Crill of Garden Grove, who is chairman of a joint reception committee that will serve at the 18th annual conventions of the American Farm Bureau and California Farm Bureau in Pasadena the week of December 6, announced today that Orange county had been allocated 1000 tickets to the barbecue at Brookside park, Pasadena, Wednesday, December 9.

The barbecue was arranged as one of the features of the week's activities, and will be marked by an address by Henry A. Wallace, U. S. secretary of agriculture. Crill said that more than 10,000 persons were expected to attend the barbecue lunch, which is being served under the direction of the state bureau.

Many persons from Santa Ana and Orange county are members of Crill's committee, which will form the plans for greeting Secretary Wallace and his contingent on their arrival in Pasadena.

Crill announced at the same time today that a special committee had been named to distribute and sell the tickets for the barbecue in Orange county during the next week. Crill is chairman of the group, and Mrs. T. W. Clark is vice-chairman.

Others on the committee were listed as R. W. Hull, R. J. McFadden, Frank C. Latham, E. E. Campbell, Miss Frances Liles, H. F. Reese, J. A. Baker, W. C. Armstrong, Walter Schmidt, Richard E. Launer, A. W. Kammerer, Lynn L. Ostrander, Louis H. Walker and David H. Crist.

HINES LEADS $5000 AUGUSTA GOLF PLAY

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 28.—(UP)—Jimmy Hines of Garden City, L. I., stroked his way into the halfway leadership of the $5000 Augusta open tournament today with a 36-hole total of 143 on returns from about a third of the field.

Trailing closely among the early finishers were Ray Mangrum, whose fine 69, two under par, gave him a total of 146 along with Ralph Guldahl who had 75-71—146.

SILVER ACRES WATER BATTLE ON NEW FRONT

The "battle of the pumping plant" at Silver Acres, an alleged "warfare" which she continued for several months, informally, in the district, had a new front last night, Santa Ana police, who investigated, revealed.

The new battle front was a street in Santa Ana, according to complaint of M. E. Bates and his wife, Mrs. Lucile Bates, of Route 2, Box 496, Santa Ana, Mrs. Bates, explaining that she and her husband have held a lease to the water pumping plant in Silver Acres for several months—but who have not held to the pumping plant because, they alleged, it was forcibly taken from them by neighbors—informed both city police and sheriff's officers about 9 o'clock last night that a "mob" was attempting to run them and their car off the highway and otherwise was trying to intimidate them.

Old Battle

The story of the "battle of the pumping plant" goes back several months. Mrs. Bates declared she and her husband acquired the pumping plant lease and when they discovered alleged irregularities in management of water toll collections, they shut down the plant. Several irate water users of the district stormed the plant and took forcible possession. Mrs. Bates alleged that she further alleged, as she sought a complaint from Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, today, that the "stormers" still hold forcible possession of the plant.

"We just served papers at Huntington Beach, Wednesday, seeking to reobtain possession of the pumps," Mrs. Bates declared today. "But last night, as we were coming to Santa Ana a car with three men in it, tried to run us off of the road on Fifth street this side of the river. They threatened us," she asserted. In fact, she further asserted, they have threatened the Bates upon several occasions and informal parties of sheriff's officers have been called to Silver Acres several times. Last night, Deputy Sheriff Bob Steinberger gave the Bates a safe escort to their home.

Police Apprehend Trio

According to City Officers R. S. Elliott, W. E. B. Sherwood and Ralph Pantuso, who investigated Mrs. Bates' complaint, they apprehended a car operated by Howard H. Hoodman, Route 2, Box 513, Santa Ana, and containing Francis F. Sherman, Route 3, Box 519, Santa Ana, and L. A. Reid, Route 3, Box 498, Santa Ana, all neighbors of the Bates. On the floor of the Hoodman car, officers found a .32 caliber revolver and a wrench and a club. Sherman carried a .32 caliber revolver but showed a permit to carry it. After Hoodman was cited for failure to have an operator's license, the men were released.

"We were just trying to get the license number of the Bates car," one of the trio stated.

"They tried to run us off the road and we saw them picking up rocks," Mrs. Bates contended. "It wouldn't be the first time rocks have been thrown at us."

Mrs. Bates didn't know what kind of complaint she would have to get today, but she wanted to sign one against the three neighbors.

DEPUTIES PROBE PETTY THEIVING

Two burglaries and a petty theft were being investigated by sheriff's officers today. Mrs. George Flechter, owner of a ranch on Santa Ana street near Placentia avenue, reported thieves smashed a window in her ranch garage and stole 85 gallons of gasoline, valued at $15. The gasoline was taken from tanks in the garage.

J. C. Harden, 602 West Ninth, Buena Park, reported someone entered an unlocked door of his home yesterday morning and ransacked the place escaping with but $4. He believed juveniles were responsible for the theft.

Last evening, while Mrs. S. J. Strong, Gilbert and Stanford roads, Garden Grove, was looking for books at the Garden Grove library, she laid her pocketbook upon a shelf. When she looked for it later, it was gone, together with $4.65. A search of the shelves revealed the purse had been discarded behind some books.

S. A. BIRDMEN WIN PLACES IN CONTEST

Tom Engelman, Laurence Dresser and James Adams, members of the Santa Ana Birdmen, were in Los Angeles yesterday competing in the indoor model plane championship contest sponsored by the Southern California Wing, Junior Birdmen of America.

The contest was held in Olympic auditorium with a trip to San Antonio, Tex., and entry in the national finals as a reward for the winner. The Santa Ana contestants were not eligible to win first prize as they did not enter all events.

Engelman and Dresser tied for fourth place in the hand launched glider event with flights of 26 seconds flat. Adams, also of Santa Ana, placed fifth in the rise off ground cabin model event with a flight of 1 min. 47 4/5 seconds.

Penney Employees To Receive Bonus

Payment of a Christmas bonus to 42 employees of the Santa Ana J. C. Penney company store, was announced today by F. A. Jones, store manager.

The bonus here is part of the program that will give Christmas awards to 25,000 Penney company employees in all stores operated by the company, Jones said.

All regular employees of the Santa Ana store who have been with the company for more than a year will receive two weeks extra pay. Those employed for shorter periods will receive proportionate amounts.

Announcing payment of the bonus Jones said: "I personally am very happy to learn of this decision by our board of directors. The Santa Ana store, like the entire Penney company, has had a splendid year. Our success is due to the work of all the group in this store. I am sure that our customers, like myself, will be happy to see these good friends of their store in Santa Ana receive this substantial recognition of their service and efforts."

TUBERCULOSIS FILM IN LOCAL CHURCH

The sound version of the new tuberculosis film, "Behind the Shadows," will be shown to various groups in the county during the coming week, it was announced today.

On Sunday, November 29, it will be shown at the First Methodist church, Santa Ana, at 5:30 p. m.; Monday, November 30, noon, Rotary club, Elks club, Anaheim; Monday evening, 7:30, at the Brotherhood meeting, Methodist church, Garden Grove; Tuesday, December 1, the film is scheduled at 2:30 p. m. for the Seal Beach Parent-Teacher association and at 7 p. m. for the Alamitos Brotherhood, Garden Grove; Thursday, December 3, at 2 p. m., the film will be shown at the Newport Elks club, clubhouse, Newport Beach; and Friday, December 4, at noon at the Rotary club, Bird's White House cafe, Laguna Beach, and at 8 p. m., at the Canadian Legion post, K. C. hall, Fourth and French, Santa Ana.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

Through the years you have moved from one city to another, lost some friends and met others and changed your clothes and your habits with the varying styles, but your love for your dear one has persisted, deepened and grown more sweet.

The separation involved in his preceding you into the richer life will not affect your devotion to each other; it will strengthen and perfect it. Some things endure amid a world of changes. When your day's work is done, you will be together again and forever; your love will grow more and more.

HOTCHKISS—At his home, Charles C. Hotchkiss, 70, 1015 East Chapman avenue, Thursday evening. Born in Whitewater, Wis., member of Masonic Lodge of Elkhorn, Wis., and of First Methodist church of Orange. Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Jennie H. Hotchkiss; one son, Ted of St. Paul, Minn.; one daughter, Miss Ruth Hotchkiss, of Redondo Beach; one sister, Mrs. Alice Bond, of Orange; two brothers, James and William of St. Paul. Funeral services to be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. from the Gilroy Funeral chapel, Orange, and will be conducted by the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson of the Orange First Methodist church.

GROWERS HERE ATTEND MEET HELD IN CHINO

With representatives of at least two Orange county farm organizations participating today in a session at Chino of a Southern California committee of the State Vegetable Growers Association, the board of directors of the Orange County Farm Bureau had completed business they expect to settle at national and state federation conventions in Pasadena the week of December 6.

Outlining of the future policies of the vegetable growers of this section of the state is the principal business before the Chino party, according to R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the county bureau, who is one of the local representatives at the meeting.

Ready to Incorporate
Harold E. Wahlberg, county farm advisor, who was among those attending yesterday's meeting of the bureau's board of directors, said his two assistants, W. N. Gray and Ross Crane, also were at the Chino meeting. Others attending include R. J. McFadden, state delegate, H. H. Gardner, local chairman of the avocado department, Mrs. H. H. Gardner, head of the home department of the Foothill Farm center, and Ned Clinton, chairman of the Dairy department.

In addition to a blanket approval of a resolution designed to guarantee marketing of higher standards of poultry products in this area, without affecting price, the bureau's directors yesterday received an important report from R. D. Gardner, bureau president.

Gardner reported that he had conferred in San Francisco with L. L. Miller, attorney for the state farm bureau, and that plans for incorporating the organization had been completed. The local directors approved the plan and directed the ways and means committee to complete the incorporation and to draft a set of by-laws for consideration at the January directors' meeting.

Hear Other Reports

H. J. Hinrichs was nominated to fill the office of vice-president of the organization, and the board unanimously approved the nomination. Two additional reports were approved by the board. One was from V. C. Heil, who said that the sugar beet growers department had completed its program for the ensuing year. The other advised that A. F. Schroeder had been seated as the director from the poultry department.

MAIL SEALS TO 25,000 ORANGE COUNTY PEOPLE

Christmas seals were received by 25,000 Orange county families, today. The seals were placed in the mails yesterday by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association in that organization's annual fund drive. Of the total number of families in Orange county to receive these stamps, approximately 7000 are located in Santa Ana, according to George D. Griffith, Anaheim, president of the Orange county group.

Mailing out of the seals followed the issuing of a proclamation by Mayor Fred C. Rowland setting aside Thanksgiving Day as the formal opening date for the Seal sale drive.

"Dear ye and know ye that by the words contained in this proclamation, I, Fred C. Rowland, Mayor of Santa Ana, here say and hereby set aside November 26, 1936 as the day on which the sale of seals for the raising of funds to control the great white plague, tuberculosis, shall begin. Let all residents of Santa Ana purchase as liberally as they may see fit these Christmas Seals, bearing the double-barred cross, international emblem of the fight against tuberculosis, mailed out by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health Association, Ltd., 112 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, California, so that tuberculosis may be restrained."

According to Griffith, more than a million California families and thousands of individuals have been sent Christmas Seals. He said that, unless delayed in the mails, all seals will be delivered today.

"The purchase of these Christmas Seals," he said, "will finance the work of the tuberculosis associations throughout the state. We hope that all who can afford to assist in this work will purchase the seals promptly and use them all on letters and packages between now and Christmas, in order to spread the knowledge of this campaign throughout the state."

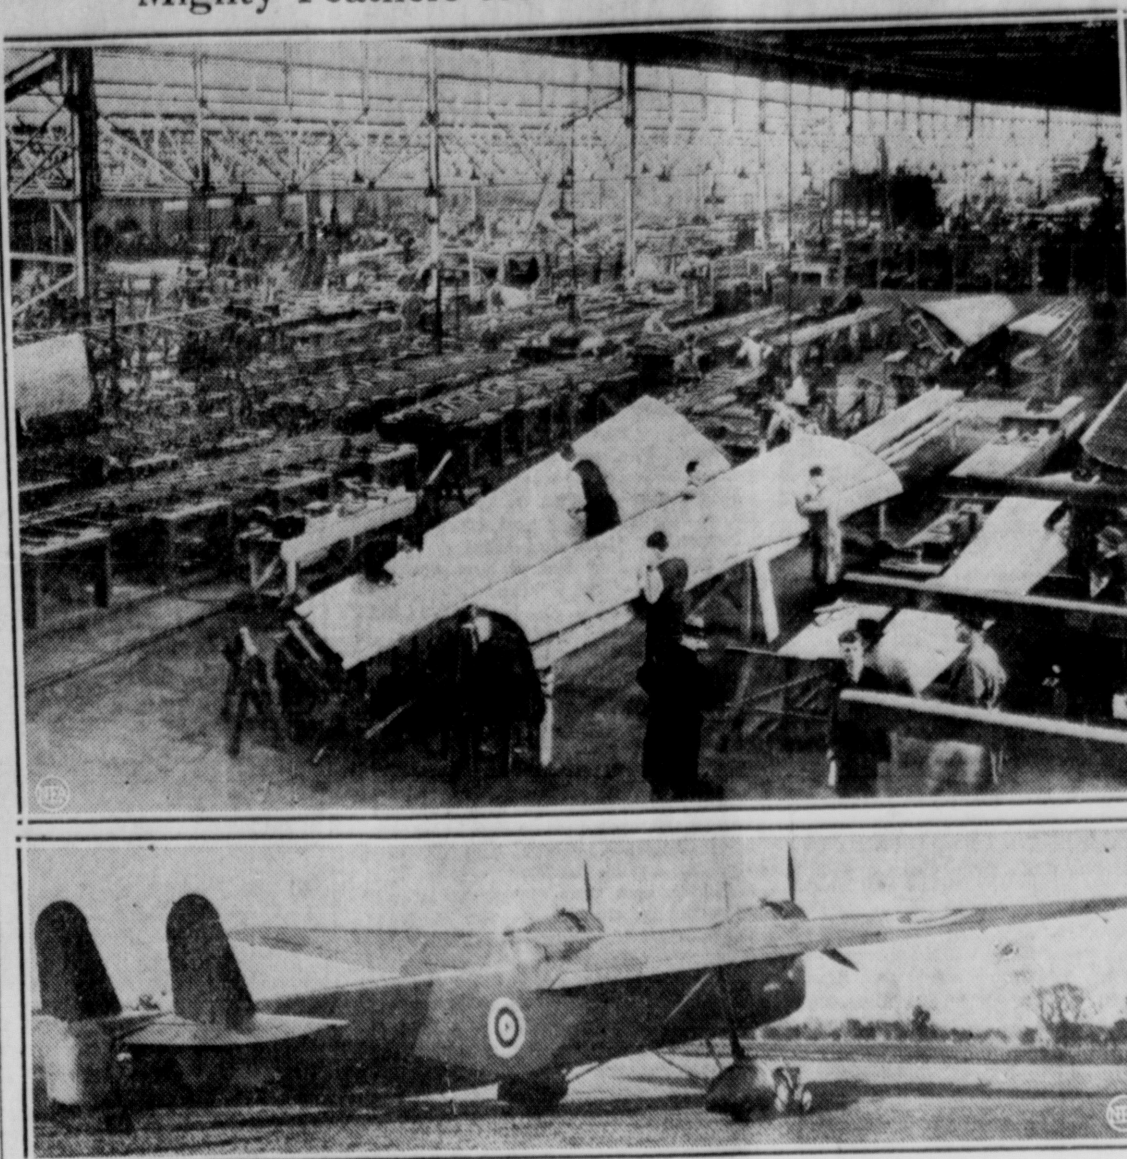

"The Christmas Seals this year picture Santa Claus and each seal bears the double barred cross, the international emblem of tuberculosis work."

"The funds raised in the sale of Christmas Seals will be used to carry on the tuberculosis testing surveys of school children, the clinics, nursing and other programs of the tuberculosis associations throughout California. All those who did not receive Christmas seals through the mail are urged to call their local city or county tuberculosis association and have their share of Christmas seals mailed to them at once."

HAZARD SELLS RANCH

SMELTZER, Nov. 28.—The 40 acres east of Smeltzer, owned by Robert Hazard, has been purchased by Conrad Worthy, local lima bean grower. The ranch, which is unimproved, has been in alfalfa but has just been plowed to a depth of 25 inches, in preparation for other crops.

Mighty Feathers for Britain's New Wings

The amazing growth of the British air force since the $1,500,000,000 armaments program was instituted 18 months ago is revealed by estimates that the total of first line planes has been increased from 580 to 992, with three to four craft in reserve on each type, making a strength of more than 4,000 aircraft. The mass production methods utilized to speed manufacture of planes is shown in the upper view of the factory at Cricklewood, near London, where the deadly new Harrow bombers (below) are assembled.

BALBOA RACING OPERATORS ARE FOUND GUILTY

That will-o'-wisp "Mr. Bishop," mysterious figure once reported as collecting "protection" money from racetrack betting establishments in Orange county, was definitively identified for Superior Judge Ames yesterday, and obliquely sentenced Alex Anderson and H. B. Wilson, Balboa operators, to terms of five months each in the county jail.

Anderson, questioned by the court just before receiving sentence, said that Bishop had been a former car partner of his, but they were not "at odds," and obliquely described Bishop as a resident of Balboa, "somewhere near the library," and of "short and fat" build, very dark complexion. His name, said Anderson, is J. Tennyson Bishop.

Bishop, he said, is about 54 years of age, with black hair, streaked with grey; weighs about 240 pounds and is about 5 feet 4 inches tall.

"I am quite sure he is now out of the state," Anderson added.

Judge Ames began the questioning of Anderson, regarding Bishop, but when Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe sought to gain further information from the witness, Defense Counsel Z. B. West objected. McCabe had gained the description of Bishop, however, before being stopped.

Bishop first had been named to the court by Robert Lusk, Anaheim operator sentenced to six months in jail for receiving bets outside of a licensed racetrack, the same offense for which Anderson and Wilson were sentenced. Lusk had told the court that Bishop had collected $25 per week from him for protection, besides $10 per week for teletype service to Lusk's establishment. Lusk, however, had been unable to tell anything about Bishop.

Anderson told the court yesterday he had heard of Lusk's statement, but found it difficult to credit, because Anderson and Wilson paid $75 per week for service alone.

They had no dealings with Bishop, Anderson said.

At the time of Lusk's statement, Judge Ames had recommended that a copy of his statement be laid before the grand jury.

Walter Hite and John Callahan, employees of Anderson and Wilson who were also convicted, asked for probation yesterday. The hearing was set for December 11.

DOUBLE SERVICES WILL BE HELD FOR FIGHTER AND WIFE

Death had hovered over the Balboa Island home of Mrs. Edna Eloise Papke for weeks before it settled down. Thanksgiving night, to snuff out two lives, it was revealed today.

When Billy Papke, one-time mid-dleweight boxing champion of the world, fired three bullets into the body of his former wife and used the remaining three bullets in his revolver to snuff out his own life, he committed the act that had caused Mrs. Papke to live in daily fear.

Mrs. Maude Lathrum, physical education teacher at a Newport Beach school, revealed yesterday that had Papke delayed his visit to the beach just one day the double tragedy might not have occurred. She said that Mrs. Papke had planned to go to Los Angeles yesterday and seek protection from her former husband who had threatened to kill her on several occasions.

Close friends of Papke and Robert, son of the former champion, with whom he lived, revealed that this last desperate act was not unexpected.

H. B. Murray, former prize fight manager and close friend of Papke's said:

"The same stubborn will which took him to the top in the ring made it impossible for Papke to accept defeat in his domestic affairs."

"I'll get her back if I have to use a gun on her and me," he told me once," Murray said.

Murray said that Papke's pride drove him crazy and that he killed his wife because he could not live or allow her to live once he faced the knowledge that her love for him was dead.

"She's not going to leave me. And no man is ever going to boast he took Billy Papke's wife to a dance," the former fighter once told Murray.

Papke's son Robert said, when told of the double tragedy, "To tell you the truth, I've expected it right along."

Mrs. Lathrum said that, desperate because of repeated threats against her life, Mrs. Papke had planned to go to Los Angeles yesterday and ask authorities to protect her.

"She asked me to go with her and I consented," Mrs. Lathrum said. "Not knowing of the tragedy I called her home to ask when she wanted to leave. I found out that it was too late. Mr. Papke had killed her and himself."

Newport Beach authorities announced that no inquest will be conducted in the deaths—the case was marked off as murder and suicide.

The three sons of the dead couple, Billy Jr., 25; Clifford, 23 and Robert, 21, have made arrangements for a double funeral Monday.

RETURNS FROM ORANGES WILL SHOW INCREASE

Prediction of an increase of between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 in income for Orange county citrus crop growers, was made today in the offices of S. W. Stanley, head of the Orange County Production Credit Association.

The increase in net returns to growers are likely to come particularly through this year's crop of Valencia, according to Stanley and W. D. Miller, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Pointing to the 1935 crop report, as compiled under the direction of D. W. Tubbs, county agricultural commissioner, the officials said this increase would mean a total income this year from orchard crops of between $23,000,000 and $25,000,000, or perhaps more. Tubbs' officials report for the year 1935 showed a total P. O. B. income from orchard crops in Orange county of $20,048,476, made up for the most part of an income of $17,299,435 from Valencia, representing approximately 10,000,000 boxes.

"The officials said the probable increase could be attributed to the fact that there was a lighter yield of crops this year as compared with the 1935 year."

Tubbs was reported today as adding the finishing touches to his 1936 report, and the indication was that it would be released shortly after the first of next year.

LENSKI TO BE FEATURED ON MEMORY HOUR

The Musical Memory Hour program to be given in Melrose Abbey Chapel Sunday afternoon will present Vladimir Lenski and John Hart Stout playing Bach's Concerto written for two violins.

This Concerto which Bach wrote in the prime of life, is said to be one of his most exquisite compositions. The organ accompanist for this beautiful composition will be ably rendered by Dorothy Gutzman on the cathedral organ.

Frances La Rue Sommers of Anaheim will play three organ numbers, "Hour of Devotion" day at Mount View Mausoleum, Pasadena.

Mrs. Helen Cabanne, neighbor and close friend of Mrs. Papke gave a vivid account of the tragedy.

"I was in Mrs. Papke's sitting room when there was a knock at the door and Mrs. Papke entered. 'Is mamma here?' he asked. Just then Mrs. Papke walked from her dressing room. I was terrified because I knew of the threats Papke had made. I tried to leave but the door was jammed. As I struggled with it, Papke, drew a gun, pressed it against his wife's breast and fired."

"I managed to jerk the door open and ran down the outside stairs. As I ran, I heard two more shots. I hid in the garage and from there I heard two more shots. I finally stopped a passing car and was taken to friends who called police."

(Rathbun): "Berceuse" (Kinder), and "Now the Day is Over."

Mr. Stout will also play a group of violin numbers which include "Polonaise" (Weinawski); "Scherzo" (Liszt) and "By the Brook" (Borodine). As a violin duet, Tchaikovsky's "Andante Cantabile" (from the quartet), will be given by Vladimir Lenski and John Hart Stout.

Vladimir Lenski is well known as a master violinist and teacher. Mr. Stout being one of his talented artist pupils. Both Miss Gutzman and Mrs. Sommers have been heard on previous Memory Hour programs and need no further introduction.

The program will begin promptly at 3 o'clock and is open to the general public.

RAGS TO FAME RECORD SET BY PACK PEDDLER

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—A white-haired, friendly old man—an itinerant pack peddler who later became Wisconsin's treasurer for 10 years—has proved again that a poor immigrant boy can advance to an office of trust in American government.

He is Solomon Levitan, 74, a staunch supporter of Gov. Philip F. La Follette, who was returned to the state's treasury office for the sixth time in the November election. A Democratic landslide in 1922 swept "Uncle Sol"—as his friends know him—out of the office he held for 10 years.

Levitan, a rotund, goateed little man, made $1,000,000 in banking and real estate, and says he lost it all in the 1922 crash, was an ardent supporter of the late Sen. Robert La Follette. Levitan explained that he supported the elder La Follette "when it took real courage to be a Progressive."

During the last campaign, in which he covered 69 of the state's 90 counties, the 74-year-old treasurer-elect never forgot to remind his listeners that he once sold "Old Bob" a pair of suspenders. The elder La Follette bought the suspenders, Levitan explained, in exchange for the pack peddler's political assistance.

"Business is business," he told the late senator as they closed the deal about 40 years ago. Levitan supported "Old Bob" for the balance of his life, even stumping the Eastern states for La Follette when he campaigned for the Presidency against Calvin Coolidge and John W. Davis in 1924.

"Handling the people's money is not a matter for politics," was Levitan's thesis in the last campaign. "It is a task that demands efficient business methods and a sound business economy to the end that the taxpayers may get the most for their money," he argued.

He pledged the state "a clean-cut administration of the office in the interest of all the people, and special favors to no one." He proved an able vote-getter and defeated Robert K. Henry, Democratic incumbent, easily.

For half a century Levitan's unique character and homely philosophy have been a part of Wisconsin. He was born in Tauragė, East Prussia, the son of an orthodox Jewish parent. In his youth he experienced many difficulties earning a livelihood. At 13 he decided to seek his fortune 3,000 miles away in Crimea where an uncle lived.

After reaching his destination, he worked for a grain dealer. It was this job that enabled him to come to America. As Jews were being driven from their homes, young Levitan happened upon a mob that had taken his employer captive. He entered the fray immediately and helped rescue his employer, who expressed his gratefulness by offering the young man his choice of a university education or a ticket to America. The young man took the ticket and landed in Baltimore in 1880.

His first job was street paving, but he saved from his seemingly enormous $1 a day earnings. With the money he accumulated he purchased his first peddler's outfit and started through Maryland and Pennsylvania. He went West in 1882.

In Wisconsin Levitan came into his own. He moved from pack peddler to merchant to bank president and finally to the state treasurer's office. He made friends quickly and before his first election in 1922 he was one of Madison's best known citizens.

ACTRESS CLAIMS JEWELRY STOLEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Gipsy Rose Lee, Broadway strip artist, was robbed in the lobby of her apartment house early today of jewelry she said was insured for $25,000.

Miss Lee said six armed men "called her 'Gipsy' and told her they robbed her only because they were 'flat broke'."

A man swung open the door of her taxi as it stopped in front of her apartment, the burlesque "queen" told police. The man took her by the arm, shoved a gun in her face and ordered:

Woman Kills Self, Children With Gas

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—(UP)—A 24-year-old mother, who made newspaper headlines eight months ago when she gave birth to a son in an ambulance, made headlines again today by killing the baby, an older child, and herself.

Police listed the case as double murder and suicide after the bodies of Mrs. Caroline Lawhorn Nahas, her two-year-old daughter, Mary, and eight-month-old son, Donald, were discovered last night by the father, Richard Nahas, 30.

Nahas, who smashed a rear window of their tiny south end tenement when "his insistent knocks went unanswered, found five gas jets of the kitchen stove open but unlighted. Articles of clothing were stuffed under windows, and doors and into keyholes, police said.

Melbourne Plants Coronation Trees

MELBOURNE (UP)—To commemorate the coronation of King Edward next year, the city is planning a tree planting campaign for next spring.

If present plans are carried out, 200 of the principal streets of the city will be lined on both sides with trees.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

GANG DIPLOMACY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The anti-Communist alliance between Japan and Germany was announced as a defensive move. The Japanese and the Hitlerites say they are just going to keep their eyes on the reds and exchange information about how to stop them. They would not harm a hair of the Russian head, not for the world.

This official assurance did not even fool the government-controlled press of Japan and Germany, and was not intended to. It was merely another of those diplomatic double entendres for the record. The transcript of the league of nations is full of them.

The defensive measures contemplated are along the general lines of Al Capone's defensive measures against rival gangsters in Chicago.

The Japanese emperor and Herr Hitler may move with slightly more grace than Mr. Capone, but their joint objective is the overthrow of the Russian regime in Russia. As the Russian communists are supposed to be plotting overthrow of the emperor and the tusher, it is to be fit for fat or rat for rat.

This, at any rate, is the firm conviction of all who know anything about the subject here.

SCHEMES

This does not mean the new allies are going out to capture Moscow. They probably will not even declare war, unless forced.

But, between now and spring, you will hear a lot about the prospect of some joint German-Japanese military maneuvers to be undertaken as soon as the trees begin to bud. You will read that the Japanese are perfecting plans to seize the Russian maritime provinces in one swoop, and that simultaneously the Germans will rush into the Ukraine. The allies will then entrench upon their ill-gotten gains and see if Stalin can stand up in Moscow under such pressure.

That is the military theory and there is nothing wrong with it as theory. However, there are sound reasons for doubting that the situation will move so far so fast.

Moscow will hear of the theory, however, and that is the main thing. It will give Mr. Stalin something to think about, other than Spain and world revolution.

Note—The expectation of a general European war in April is not shared by the best judges in official quarters, although some very well informed persons are inclined to believe it probable.

JITTERS

This kind of terrorizing diplomatic pressure may promote German-Japanese purposes in Russia faster than you would believe.

It was only a few months ago that Stalin found it necessary to stage a wholesale purge of political adversaries. Now he has timed his announcement of a liberalization of the soviet constitution to coincide with the alliance announcement. The manner and swing of his step does not indicate that he considers his government perpetually secure.

Incidentally, the constitutional liberalization does not seem to be very deep or sincere. The people are to be given freedom on paper, but who will be unto them if they try to exercise it in any manner displeasing to the government. The press is to be free also, but you will wait a long time before you will find any Russian editor denouncing Stalin in print.

INVITATIONS

Stalin's move toward "a real democracy" was deemed here to be a rather odd bid for the sympathy of democrats, particularly the United States. Few authorities here considered it seriously. Certainly it did not inspire any real official sympathy.

Nor did our diplomats devote any greater attention to the simile bid from the Germans and Japanese. They did feel to comment upon the pointed assertion of Hitler's Ribbentrop that the U. S. had protested against the communists last year and that any nation would be welcomed into the new alliance.

Both the German and Japanese diplomats are unofficially aware of the fact that the U. S. cannot enter into any mutual defense pact of foreign nations, and the present government would not, if it could.

NOTES

An interesting theory of the coming European war is offered by one official here. He says there will be no war in the spring because the war is already on.

In his opinion, the war started in Spain and will not end until something like it occurs in most of the countries of Europe. France, he says, is next.

Stop the presses! Congressman Lemke, who ran for the presidency, but not very far, is now writing a book. It will not explain how he was defeated, but will deal with a subject with which he is only remotely connected: Money.

Push Norman Baxter, the Jesse Jones press agent, up to the front of the list of those most likely to succeed presidential secretary Stephen T. Early when he transfers to a movie executive job January 1.

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28.—Personal observations: From where I sit, looks as if the girls with the pretty legs (Ruby Keeler, Jean Harlow, and others) are striving to rejuvenate short skirts; stars with clumsy shafts are fighting. Has Frederic March over-acted himself out of last year's popularity? Joan Crawford reminds me of an Olympic singer so easily. Frances Langford gulps air and belows it out. Will someone please wipe that eternally photographed smile off Marion Davies' face; honestly, in real life she is a regular human being, and not a grinning mannequin. Odd that villainous looking Mische Auer should turn out to be the season's comedy find.

No doubt of it, Madeleine Carroll has supplanted Marlene Dietrich as the colony's most "buff" woman—but she does lack Marlene's oh-boy legs. Strange that while Herbert Marshall, who lost a leg in the cause of humanity (World War) should hide that fact, while Lawrence Stallings, similarly fated, is apparently proud. Who else has noticed that Janet Gaynor (perennially relegated to goofy-good roles) is one of the screen's most sex-appealish women? I often go far out of my way to bask momentarily in the light of Maureen O'Sullivan's boyish grin. After the build-up gigantic in "Girls Dormitory," what a letdown for Simone Simon in "Ladies in Love"—or was competition keener? Loretta Young, despite her too-thin torso, has jaw-jus legs. Every time I see Beverly Roberts, I think that had she been a man, she might have been a boxing ring champ.

Gadding about MGM studio I came upon Al Boasberg, author of the new Marx brothers script. I asked him how work was progressing. "Great!" he enthused. "I've finished, except for the story!" I had a mind to tell him that I have seen many a movie which somebody must have forgotten to write a story. Remembering what happened to Napoleon at Waterloo, I held my tongue.

Later, at luncheon with Robert Taylor in studio commissary, we were given the names on which is printed the number of calories in each item. I noticed Bob snoudering silently, and at last his rage came to a head. "This," he cried to a waitress, "is entirely too much

ORANGE ROLL CALL TO END

ORANGE, Nov. 28.—Red Cross roll call will close December 1, it is announced by E. E. Campbell, chairman, to reopen on January 1 when old membership lists will be checked and those who contributed in former years and who have been missed in the present drive will be contacted.

The quota set here was for 850 members, 500 of which have been obtained, with many organizations not yet having handed in their memberships. When this is done, those in charge of the drive expect that the quota will be exceeded.

Mrs. Maida Leiminger will be at the Chamber of Commerce office from 2 to 3 p. m. Monday to check incoming lists of members. After this date memberships are to be turned in to V. D. Johnson, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

ORGANIZE CLUB

ORANGE, Nov. 28.—The newly organized men's toastmasters club will meet Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Sunshine Broiler for a speaking program and to complete plans for a permanent organization. Henry Bosch is temporary chairman of the group. It is expected at the coming meeting a nominating committee will be selected.

BIBLE CLASS TO MEET

ORANGE, Nov. 28.—Members of the Orange Community Men's Bible class will meet tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. in the Woman's club house, according to an announcement made by the class teacher, the Rev. M. L. Pearson. The class has met for many years in the Colonial theater building on South Glassell street.

CALIFORNIA OUT TO REGAIN RANK AS BREEDING STATE

Bay Meadows has brought racing back to California for another winter.

It will be but a few short weeks until Santa Anita opens its doors for its third season. Entries close Dec. 1 for the Santa Anita Handicap of Feb. 22 and though closing dates for other stakes come later next month, the pattern of Los Angeles racing—Santa Anita opens on Christmas Day—is well laid.

There is something back of the amazing spurge of Santa Anita which seems to escape the average turf fan. That is the breeding of race horses in the Golden State. It has always been argued that racing stimulates horse breeding, but it has not proven true in states which have legalized racing merely for the sake of the revenue accruing in state treasuries.

For instance, there is virtually no breeding of race horses in Florida and Louisiana. Arkansas is in the same boat. So is Ohio, the state which produced the immortal Imp, "The Coal Black Lady" which was known all over the racing firm.

Imp was born in 1894, and since her day Ohio has been destitute of great thoroughbred blood, though rich enough in trotting stock.

In California and Texas it is different. Able commissions have no desire to run racing in mind a healthy growth of the sport in all directions. Carleton, player, breeder of polo ponies, and now a breeder of California commission, and he proved an able one.

KENTUCKY'S RIVAL
Most people long since have forgotten the part California played in the early career of the race horse in the United States. It began as far back as the Civil War and flourished until after the war with Spain was ended. It might have continued without a break had not meetings of 140 days been the rule.

It was in 1873 that the aged California horse, Thad Stevens, stunned the east by beating Joe Daniels and True Blue for a purse of $20,000 in gold. In those days horses really raced, for the event was a race of heats of four miles each. Thad Stevens won the third and fourth. Later, the marvelous Mollie McCarthy jumped to national fame in the same event.

Theodore Winter perhaps was first to prove that California might vie with Kentucky as a breeding state. He purchased the unbeaten Norfolk for $15,000—the extra dollar being added so that Norfolk's breeder might win a bet that he would sell a son of Lexington for more than $15,000—and took him to California.

There Norfolk entered the stud. Norfolk's opportunities were limited because of the lack of good mares in California, yet he produced a succession of splendid horses, and died the most noted of all Lexington's sons in the stud.

Norfolk produced the unbeaten El Rio Rey and The Czar, not to mention the champion Emperor of Norfolk, Duke of Norfolk, Rey del Rey, and others.

Strangely enough all of those stars came from one mare—Marlene, still remembered as the greatest producer among mares.

E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin succeeded Winters as California's foremost patron of the turf. Baldwin founded the original breeding farm, Santa Anita, on the site of the present track. Baldwin also brought a number of Norfolk's sons to the Atlantic seaboard, and the yearly forays of his colts and fillies usually spread terror through the ranks of eastern owners and trainers.

ACTORS TURN TO TURF
After the days of Winters, Baldwin and Adolph Spreckles—his son bred the famous Morvich James Ben Ali Haggin established his famous Rancho Del Paso in California. It was the largest stud farm in the world and boasted probably the choicest mares. But when racing stopped in California, Haggin moved his stock to Kentucky.

Today the places of imported Dabene, Sir Modred, and Norfolk are being filled by the former Edward Riley, Bradley star, Boxthorn, son of Blue Larkspur, and Ladyman, once conqueror of Equipoise. From Germany has come Normanne to stand in Oregon, where he is within easy reach of California clients.

Hal Roach, Alfred E. Green, Clark Gable, Bing Crosby, Joe E. Brown and other figures in motion pictures are purchasing choice bred young fillies which are to be used in the breeding paddocks when their racing days are concluded.

California tracks, Bay Meadows, grand old Tanforan—a finger from other days—and Santa Anita are paying bonuses to breeders.

The number of good stallions in California mare lists are jumping rapidly. In the old days, California-bred horses asked no quarter from eastern horses and won their share of races. With the best conducted race tracks in the world to show them the way back, it won't be long until Golden State horses once more will be menacing eastern supremacy.

LEMON REES ENTER BOX FISTIC TOURNEY
Lepo Lemon, burly Fullerton heavyweight, has been entered in the annual Golden Gloves mittfest by the Orange County Athletic club, while Barney Reese, mighty Atwood mite, is entered unattached in the 112-pound division.

Entries for the tournament, sponsored by the Los Angeles Examiner, close at midnight tonight.

Lemon, a contender in the first tournament after fighting his way eliminated to the top. He broke his hand in one of the preliminary matches. The Fullerton "caveman" is given a good chance of becoming this year's champion as he has out-pointed most of the men now enrolled in the event.

Reese, one of the most colorful fighters produced in Orange County, also is conceded a chance to finish near the top. His chief opponent will be Bernie Reyes, 112-pound Mexican who will be defending his championship.

Joe Rodgers Quits

PRESSURE OF OWN BUSINESS REASON GIVEN

Giving the pressure of his personal business as a reason, Joe Rodgers resigned today as manager of the Huntington Beach Oilers, three-time champions of the Southern California Night Ball association.

Filler with Fred Grable, president of the club, Rodgers' statement follows in full:

"It is with much regret that I am writing this letter, which serves to tell you I am tendering my resignation as manager of the Huntington Beach Oilers."

"I resigning at this time, it will give the commission sufficient time, before the 1937 season, to find a new manager."

Am I forced to do this, on account of my personal business, to which I must devote more time.

"It has been a pleasure to be at the head of such a fine bunch of boys for the past four years, and to have had the fine support of the commission and the city of Huntington Beach."

Your early acceptance will be greatly appreciated."

Rodgers was reluctant to amplify the written explanation, stating that there was "no news behind the news."

"I have personal interests that I have frequently neglected on account of baseball," said Rodgers. "I am interested in oil drilling at Taft as well as Huntington Beach and it will be necessary for me to be out of town quite often henceforth."

Rodgers took charge of a chronic second-division club in 1933. His team won the second-half that year but lost to Torrance in a 4-2 playoff series. The Oilers captured both halves in '34, defeated Santa Ana in the playoffs in '35 and '36. Under Rodgers, the Huntington Beach club played 203 games, winning 160 and losing only 43. Since '33 the Oilers have never dropped a series.

They routed Santa Ana in four straight last summer, jolted San Bernardino in the Southern Cal series and then took the measure of the Hollywood team that won The Examiner's Southern California softball tournament.

Guiding star of a colorful club, Manager Rodgers was a hard-hitting, aggressive leader. He neither gave nor asked quarter, and was frequently involved in arguments and disputes. Fans all over the National league circuit gave him the "works" but more in good humor than bitterness. Even his worst enemies credited Rodgers with building up interest in the sport and keeping up interest in the games. The Santa Ana-Huntington Beach finale in 1935 still stands as the National league's record crowd. More than 5000 fans paid to see Huntington Beach clinch the pennant.

LEHNHARDT SECOND IN JAYSEE SCORING

of the Santa Ana Dome, Lehnhardt finished in second place to further justify his claim to the best all-around back in the league. Howard Mueda, co-captain of the Riverside Bengals, finished third by scoring against Chaffey last Wednesday night.

The final standings:

Managers of Santa Ana Church league teams will meet at the Y. M. C. A. Monday at 7 p. m. to decide on the eighth member of the basketball alignment. Both the First Christian and the Baptist quinquets are seeking the franchise.

A half-hour later, at 7:30, the league will formally open its season with the Nazarene and the United Brethren clashing in the first game. The Christian Missionary Alliance will play the Midway Nazarene in the second clash.

LEHRS PLAY ELBEES AT ORANGE DIAMOND

Pete Lehrs' Service nine meets Bob Hughes Long Beach Mitees at the Orange city park diamond tomorrow afternoon in a Southern California Baseball Managers' association contest.

Hughes, "the forgotten man of baseball" will present a colorful team of youngsters which played with his American Legion Junior nine this summer. They were eliminated in the finals of the state tournament.

Herman Houck, husky Orange youth, is scheduled to start for Lehrs' while Vince McDonald will be held to reserve.

BOB NESTELL SCORES TENTH K. O. IN ROW

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Bob Nestell, former Golden Gloves brawler, scored his tenth consecutive knockout last night when he dropped Johnny Miller of Detroit in the second round of their main event bout at Legion stadium.

Miller, 24, and Nestell, 24, both of California, met in their main event bout at Legion stadium.

Don Hubbell, 19-year-old brother of Carl Hubbell, New York Giants' pitcher, is a star moundsman with a House of David nine in California.

5 DONS ON ALL-CONFERENCE THREE MORE ON NO. 2 TEAM

Honor Erdhaus, Rash, Holmes, Greschner, Lehnhardt

Eight of Santa Ana's champions achieved first or second rating today when the official All-Eastern Junior college conference football team of 1936 were announced.

more. Brown, an Anaheim boy who captained the '34 Trojan freshmen before moving to Citrus, is a 195-pounder also with two years' experience. Rash, Santa Ana sophomore, is the smallest man on the team, coming in at a mere 155 pounds. The juniors agreed Rash was the No. 1 running guard by a wide margin. Hal Wieman, San Bernardino center, is a soph of 175 pounds, a versatile athlete who played at times in San Bernardino's backfield. Guard Carl Benson of Santa Ana is a rugged sophomore 190-pounder who shifted from guard to tackle with equal facility. The same was true of Leon Utman, Chaffey's 195-pounder, who played both positions for the Panthers. Riverside's Gieseke, sophomore end, was co-captain of the Bengals.

The only freshmen to make the first club was Lloyd Leest, Riverside halfback, who punted and passed perfectly, and big Johnny

ERDHAUS BENSON

Co-Captain Allen Titensor at end, Russell ("Rusty") Roquet at tackle and Bob Holmes at center were selected on the second squad. Joe Herbert and Ray Devine received honorable mention.

The official all-conference elevens are selected after the Thanksgiving Day games each year by sports editors of newspapers in the conference. Those attending last night's dinner meeting in Pomona were Wilbur Fogleman, Riverside Enterprise; Dave Melkiohn, Pomona Progress-Bulletin; George Kelly, Azusa Herald; Perry Maynard, Fullerton News-Tribune; and Eddie West, Santa Ana Register. Erdhaus, Rash, Benson, Greschner, Lehnhardt, Brown and Casey

Casey of Pomona, a 195-pounder who led the conference in scoring. Greschner and Lehnhardt are two-year men.

Sophomores on the second string are Titensor and Holmes of Citrus, Blackwood of Pomona, Lauborn of Fullerton, Timmons of Citrus, Montgomery of Citrus and Wasilchen of Pomona. Freshmen selected on this squad were Roquet of Santa Ana, Hackworth of Fullerton, Templeton of San Bernardino and Poore of Citrus.

The sports writers' association also voted to (1) request the Eastern conference to pass a ruling on players' numbers, and (2) clarify the complimentary ticket puzzle which has been a problem for many years. The scribes will ask conference teams to assign numbers early in the season and agree not to change them without notifying the press. A system of exchanging passes also will be demanded. In the past the writers have had to pay or force their way through the gates when "on the road."

None of the first string are sophomores. Second-year men also dominated the second group, all but four being sophomores.

HUSKIES NAME PASADENA Foe WITHIN WEEK

SEATTLE, Nov. 28.—(UP)—University of Washington's Rose Bowl opponent will be named within a week, Ray Eckmann, Washington graduate manager, said today.

While Eckmann gave no indication which Eastern school the Huskies will select, it was understood they were considering Alabama and Louisiana State as possible first choices, and Dartmouth, Pennsylvania or Pittsburgh as possible second choices.

The outcome of the L. S. U.-Tulane game today may have a bearing on Washington's choice, it was believed.

"It is our desire to select the most worthy and representative opponent possible," Eckmann said. "We will make our decision as soon as possible. It may be several days, and possibly a week, before we can make any announcement, however. We are looking forward to a very successful affair at Pasadena."

Meanwhile, enthusiasm over Washington's bid to the New Year's Day classic ran high in Seattle. Business men mapped plans to send hundreds of Seattle fans to Pasadena, where the Huskies will be playing for the first time since 1926. On that occasion Alabama, the "Eastern" opponent, defeated Washington 20-19 after the Huskies had led at the half, 19-0.

Predecessor may succeed his successor as head football coach of Texas University if Clyde Littlefield, above, present freshman coach, is appointed to succeed Jack Chevigny, below, current mentor whose resignation goes into effect Feb. 1. Chevigny, former Notre Dame luminary, succeeded Littlefield three years ago. He resigned on the eve of his team's departure for Minneapolis to play Minnesota after the Texans had dropped four straight games. Chevigny intends to practice law.

File Papers For Race Track Near Oakland Airport

OAKLAND, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Plans for construction of a 200-acre race track near Elmhurst, south of the Oakland airport, were announced today. Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state at Sacramento.

R. C. Schwerin, San Francisco, member of the temporary board of directors, said racing would start sometime in 1938.

LIONS EXPECT PASS BARRAGE FROM DONS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The Loyola Lions make their last home appearance of the 1936 football season at Gilmore stadium here tomorrow against the San Francisco university Dons.

Defeated four times this season, the Dons were not expected to provide heavy opposition to the Lions who were reported "fired up" to avenge last year's 9 to 0 upset.

Coach "Spud" Lewis and his players arrive here tomorrow morning, a few hours before game time. The Dons are expected to throw an aerial barrage in an attempt to close their season with a surprise victory this year also.

Seek European Challenger For Harmsworth Cup

DETROIT, Nov. 28.—(UP)—The challenge deadline for the Harmsworth trophy, international symbol of speedboat supremacy, has been shifted to Jan. 1. Lee Barrett, secretary of the Yachtsmen's Association of America, announced today.

The deadline was advanced in the hope extra time would enable a European challenger to put in a bid for a race next year. The last Harmsworth race was held in 1933.

ROSS FAT AND SLOW BUT RETAINS TITLE

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(UP)—A snappy right hand punch that landed hard and often was all that kept Barney Ross at the top of the welterweight division today.

Seven years a fighter and a champion of two divisions, Ross hadn't defended the 147-pound crown since winning it 15 months ago from Jimmy McLarnin. Last night in Madison Square Garden he laid it on the line—and came dangerously near losing it to "dizzy" Izzy Jannazzo, a grinning youngster from Birmingham.

It was the first appearance in the garden for Ross, ex-lightweight king and he who won the title from McLarnin, lost it and regained it again in three battles, was soundly booed by a crowd of 8500 for the worst performance he ever has given.

Jannazzo bothered Ross with his unorthodox style and slowed Ross down to a walk at times with a long left.

But the champion, although he appeared old, tired and flabby at 143 1-4 pounds, landed his right enough times to win.

Marchy Schwartz, head coach and former Notre Dame star, Art Polley, and Ed Marek, all graduate lawyers, teach football at Creighton university.

Seven years a fighter and a champion of two divisions, Ross hadn't defended the 147-pound crown since winning it 15 months ago from Jimmy McLarnin. Last night in Madison Square Garden he laid it on the line—and came dangerously near losing it to "dizzy" Izzy Jannazzo, a grinning youngster from Birmingham.

It was the first appearance in the garden for Ross, ex-lightweight king and he who won the title from McLarnin, lost it and regained it again in three battles, was soundly booed by a crowd of 8500 for the worst performance he ever has given.

Jannazzo bothered Ross with his unorthodox style and slowed Ross down to a walk at times with a long left.

But the champion, although he appeared old, tired and flabby at 143 1-4 pounds, landed his right enough times to win.

SEASON 'TAKEN' OVER $9000 AND MORE TO COME

By EDDIE WEST

Nothing succeeds like success, and so all attendance records are being smashed to smithereens by Santa Ana's all-conquering junior college Dons this season.

With at least one more game (Los Angeles next Friday night) still to go, the Eastern conference champions have virtually doubled last year's gate receipts.

The approximate "take" from the Dons' first 10 games today totals $9272. The same number of contests in 1935 grossed only $4689.52.

The most successful schedule in Santa Ana's Jaysee annals was 1934, when a post-season engagement with Riverside raised the ante to $4912, a record until Coach Bill Cook's squad went on its current rampage.

The figures follow:

| *Pasadena | *$250.00 |
|----------------------|-----------|
| Long Beach | 617.54 |
| Glendale | 398.05 |
| Citrus | 350.00 |

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MARCIA CANFIELD, daughter of wealthy PHILIP CANFIELD, knows the neighborhood is buzzing over the sudden disappearance of FRANK KENDRICK, whose engagement to Marcia has been announced. Since his disappearance, a shortage in Kendrick's funds has been discovered. With her friends, WALLY DELLE, and others, Marcia is in a restaurant when there is a hold-up. Marcia loses a ring as her mother's.

Learning Frank is in Chicago, Marcia goes there to try to persuade him to return and face his financial obligations. Before she reaches him, Frank disappears again. In Chicago, she encounters BRUCE McDONALD, a stranger, who volunteers a slight service. Bruce is also a passenger on the plane Marcia takes to return home. A few weeks later she sees him again. Bruce, an artist, has decided to make his home in the suburb.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XV

TONY STELLICCI, with a sick heart, realized that he had bungled the job which clearly had faced him when he first suspected Carlo's complicity in the Dog Wagon holdup. His immediate concern had been to recapture, as a matter of honor, the property stolen before his eyes from the restaurant customers. In his efforts to this end, and subsequently, he had acted in secret because of consideration of his father, fearing the effect of the shock upon the invalid should he learn that his other son was a thief. Having regained and mailed anonymously to the police his brother's share of the things stolen at the Dog Wagon, Tony had felt himself balked; he did not know how to proceed without publicity harmful to his father.

But as the same four men who had robbed his customers had since committed other holdups in Bobbs Neck—the Henderson bridge party and the Canfield home—Tony realized the effects of his failure. Somehow he should have stopped Carlo at the outset.

On the day after Carlo's visit to New York, Tony awakened, as usual, soon after noon and, greeting his father, prepared for his breakfast, served by the landlady along with his father's lunch. The village welfare nurse was to call this afternoon on a regular visit, and after their meal Tony opened book to read to his father until her arrival.

SINCE Marcia Canfield, as part of her contribution to the welfare work, frequently accompanied the nurse on her rounds, Tony was not surprised when the two arrived together this afternoon. Nor, of course, was he surprised

FOUNTAIN VALLEY SCHOOL TEACHERS PARTY HONOREES

TALBERT, Nov. 28.—A Thanksgiving dinner party was given for teachers of Fountain Valley school, school board members and their wives, on Tuesday evening in the eighth grade room of the school, by Hollis Fitz, principal of the school, and Mrs. Fitz, with 16 guests enjoying the creamed chicken dinner. The two long tables were laid with Thanksgiving table cloths and the favors and place cards were in keeping with the season. Between courses games were played and after dinner the game of Monopoly featured the remainder of the evening.

Present at the party were the teachers, Miss Hartel, Miss Hartman, Miss Helgenfeld, Miss Carr; school board members and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pulton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Giesler, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Betschart; Mrs. Joseph Hayden, Americanization teacher for the district, Mrs. Anna Helm, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Fitz.

On Wednesday afternoon at the conclusion of school, the Fountain Valley faculty members were guests of honor at a Mexican feast served at the local Colonia Juarez Mexican Center. Spanish refreshments were served by women of the center, with Mrs. Hayden acting with them in the hostess capacity.

FOX BROADWAY

Manager Lester J. Fountain has booked as tender and charming a Cinderella love-story as one could wish for in "Along Came Love," the romance of a bargain-basement salesgirl and a handsome young medical student earning his way as a theater doorman. It opens at the Fox Broadway theater next Thursday.

Irene Hervey and Charles Starrett play the leading roles. "Along Came Love" is from the pen of Austin Strong, author of "Seven Heavens," and it was directed by Bert Lytell, one of the silent screen's outstanding leading men. The way in which he blends high comedy, pathos and romance in "Along Came Love" augurs well for him in the directorial field.

The fast moving story concerns Hervey to find on earth a man as handsome, glamorous and romantic as the ancient classic figure of Orion. She finds him in the young doorman. Their love flourishes until the root of all evil rears its ugly head. They find they cannot marry and take care of the girl's mother played by Miss Franklin, on their meager income. The mother decides to remedy matters in her own way by returning to the burlesque stage. She does, and is arrested, bringing shame upon her little household and making it advisable for Miss Hervey to give up her young doctor rather than have his career blighted by this scandal.

She disappears and Starrett is desolate. But things are remedied in ship-shape by Mr. Vincent, the girl's former employer, played by Ferdinand Gutschalk, who is the original Mr. Fixit in the film.

In addition to the above a second feature, "The Devil is a Sissy," has been booked by Manager Fountain.

FOX WEST COAST

All the power, nobility and lofty sentiment which made Barry Corbin's novel, "Valiant is the Word for Carrie," a best-seller live anew, aided by the magic touch of the motion picture camera and the sterling performances of a great cast in the screen version of the novel which opens at the Fox West Coast theater next Saturday.

"Valiant is the Word for Carrie" brings to the screen Gladys George, famous stage actress, in the title role. She is supported by Anne Judge, Dudley Digges, Harry Carey and Isabel Jewell. Miss George is a dramatic actress of exceptional ability and the mother role she creates in this film places her immediately among the great of filmdom.

"Valiant is the Word for Carrie" is the story of a woman of shady reputation who longs for a family of her own. She adopts two waifs, played by Jackie Moran and Charles Wyatt, and takes them to a distant city. Her struggle is a hard one but she rears them to glorious young manhood and womanhood. The adult roles of the children are played by Arline Judge and John Howard. Miss Judge is in love with Howard but he doesn't understand. He becomes involved with an adventuress and, broken-hearted, the girl marries another. In an effort to regain the harmony which always prevailed in the family, Carrie goes to the adventuress, played by Isabel Jewell, and offers her money. Through this she becomes involved in a jailbreak and is arrested.

Before the trial she is confronted with a grave decision which must be made at once. She can fight the case and win her freedom, which would enable her to return to her little brood. But this would reveal her early reputation which would becloud the lives of the children who do not know. If she doesn't fight the case she will be jailed. But the net will never know. And the children will never know. But we assure you—it's terrific.

WALKERS

"The Big Game" one of the season's outstanding football pictures, and "China Seas," a "request return" hit, are paired as the attractions for presentation on the screen of Walker's new theater next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. And on Friday night at 8:45 o'clock there will be another of the stage shows which is attracting such large crowds to the theater each week.

Football stars in the gridiron story are Bobby Wilson, Bill Shakespeare, Jay Berwanger, Monk Moscrip, Bones Hamilton and Frank Alustiza. Screen stars in this picture are Philip Huston, June Travis, Bruce Cabot, James Gleason, Andy Devine, Guinn "Big Boy" Williams and Barbara Pepper.

One of the greatest star combinations of screen history is assembled for "China Seas," the story of fierce loves, bitter hates and deadly intrigue off the wild coast of Asia on a tramp steamer that is attacked by Malay pirates. The stars are Jean Harlow, Clark Gable and Wallace Beery. The supporting cast includes Lewis Stone, Rosalind Russell and Dudley Digges.

Other attractions coming soon to Walker's State are "Last of the Mohicans," "Dodsworth," "Come And Get It," "Theodora Goes Wild," "Valiant is the Name for Carrie," and "Born to Dance."

STATE

"Murder With Pictures," a thrilling mystery that makes use of wirephoto, brings Lew Ayres and Gail Patrick to the State theater next Tuesday and Wednesday. The second feature is "The Law in Her Hands," starring Margaret Lindsay, Glenda Farrell, Warren Hull and Lily Talbot in a dramatic story of a noted woman attorney in New York.

Starting Thursday a Zane Grey thriller of the great west heads the bill. It is "The Arizona Raiders," with Larry Crabbe, Raymond Hatton and Marsha Hunt.

WALKER'S

The sprightly comedy romance "Piccadilly Jim," one of the P. G. Wodehouse laugh epics, will be screened at Walker's for the last times tonight. Robert Montgomery and Madge Evans have the leads in this story and are supported by a cast including Billie Burke, Frank Moran and Eric Blore.

"Two in a Crowd," the second feature, stars Joel McCrea and Joan Bennett. It is a romantic comedy of the adventures that befall two young people who each find half of a $1000 bill in the snow.

A news reel of late events of interest from all parts of the world completes the bill.

STATE

"Stampede," the Peter B. Kyne story of a feud in the cattle country of the great Northwest, closes its run at the State theater tonight. Charles Starrett heads the cast and makes things happen fast and furiously.

A color cartoon; a news reel; a chapter of "The Arizona Stand," an Andy Clyde comedy, "Am I Having Fun," also show on the program.

MARY HOOVER IS PARTY HONOREE

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 28.—The twelfth birthday of Mary Louise Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hoover, was celebrated with a delightful birthday party for the honoree last Friday evening.

Miss Rosemary Sheehan, aunt of the honoree and Mrs. N. B. Monks assisted Mrs. Hoover in making the party an enjoyable affair for the many friends of Miss Hoover attending. Games of all sorts and a huge birthday cake and ice-cream followed by dancing made the party a gay one. Prizes for games were won by Patsy Leahy, Janell Nolan, and Clifford Morris. Guests attending included: Misses Mary Jane Sherman, Sheila McCullough, Marjorie Simmons, Janell Nolan, Patricia Bird, Katherine Weis, Patricia Leahy, Georgia Eltemar, Patricia Lee Hoover and Messrs. Bob Vincent, Billy Benton, Marvin Carlton, Charles Jester Jr., Jack Kerrigan, Clifford Morris, Dennis Taylor, and Charles Hoover.

Pupils Entertain Mothers at Party

BUENA PARK, Nov. 28.—Closing school for the Thanksgiving vacation, students of rs. Martha Landell's room at the Lindbergh school entertained their mothers with a program in the classroom.

Numbers included a poem, "Not Thankful," by Earl Bizzle early American dance by girls of the class, poem, "A Handicap," by George Lawrence; action songs by third grade girls as Pilgrims, "The Pilgrims Came," by Bobby Barron, a play, "The Gift of Thanksgiving," fourth grade girls; and greetings by the class.

About 20 mothers attended the affair. Tea and cookies were served by the hostess teacher and class.

"THEODORA" TO SHOW SUNDAY AT BROADWAY

"Theodora Goes Wild," a rollicking Columbia production which serves to introduce Irene Dunne to motion picture fans in her first comedy assignment, will be shown locally for the first time at the Fox Broadway theater starting tomorrow.

Supported by an exceptionally strong cast, Miss Dunne is permitted to run fancy free through a sprightly tale of a small town girl who wins her big city man in a big-city way. Melvyn Douglas appears opposite Miss Dunne in the leading male role, with Thomas Mitchell, Thurston Hall, Rosalind Keith, Spring Byington, Elizabeth Risdon and Margaret McWade rounding out the cast.

For years Miss Dunne has been known as a dramatic star, portraying such roles as Sabra Cravat in "Cimarron" and the forgotten woman in "Back Street."

The story unfolded in "Theodora" tells of a small town girl who tries writing under a pen name for her own amusement. Her novels, of the ultra-sophisticated variety, land in the best selling class over night. Her publishers had promised to protect the young author's identity, but it is discovered by the handsome young illustrator of her books, the carefree Douglas. Douglas follows her to her home town, manager to win a job there as a gardener, and soon finds himself in love.

When the love is reciprocated the illustrator disappears. Instead of grieving, Theodora takes matters into her own hands. Following the sophisticated approach outlined in her books, she hastens to the city in pursuit. There she emerges in a series of hilarious escapades that bring out the type of headlines in her home town, manages to win a during the Great War.

"Theodora Goes Wild" was adapted to the screen by Sidney Buchman from an original by Mary McCarthy. The production was directed by Richard Boleslawski.

GARDENS DISCUSSED BY S.C. CLUB WOMEN

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 28.—The November meeting of the women's club garden section was held in the home of Mrs. E. R. Bartlett, Ave. Monterey, this week. Mrs. B. H. Latham was co-hostess.

Mrs. Mary Phillips who has a fine cactus garden in her home on the Ortega highway above San Juan Capistrano Hot Springs, was an invited guest and gave an interesting talk on the many varieties of cactus she has collected during travels through California and other states. Chapters from the rose culture textbook being studied by the group were read and discussed. Miss Emma J. Ochsner, chairman, presided over the business meeting and program. The guests were then shown Mrs. Bartlett's garden where roses, dahlias, begonias and cacti are grown in profusion, and many slips and young plants were distributed to the group. Refreshments were served by the hostesses. Mrs. Latham and Mrs. Bartlett.

P. T. A. TO MEET

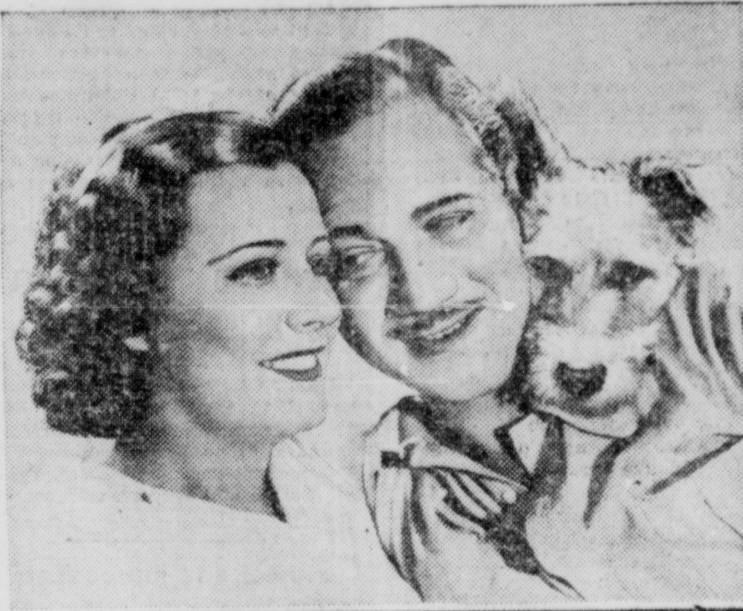

YORBA LINDA, Nov. 28.—Miss Evadne Parry, art director of the Orange county schools, will talk at the December meeting of the Yorba Linda P. T. A. Tuesday afternoon at the school. The meeting opens at 3 p. m. A meeting of the directors will be at 2 p. m.

The children of the first grade and kindergarten will provide the program and room mothers of those grades will be hostesses.

ATTRACTIONS AT LOCAL THEATERS

Irene Dunne and Melvyn Douglas, stars of "Theodora Goes Wild" are shown in a scene from that picture. "Theodora Goes Wild" opens at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow.

"Born to Dance" is the current attraction at the Fox West Coast theater. The two stars, James Stewart and Eleanor Powell, world's greatest feminine tap dancer are shown above.

BORN TO DANCE IS ATTRACTION AT WEST COAST

That peculiarly rhythmic tapping sound which is being heard all over town today is merely the echo of Eleanor Powell who once again clinches her title of the world's greatest feminine tap dancer in the musical spectacle "Born to Dance," which came to the Fox West Coast screen today.

Miss Powell, who first won huzzahs from critics and film audiences alike in "Broadway Melody of 1936," is a delight to behold, a pleasure to listen to and a tremendous treat to lovers of dancing in any form. In her first picture she proved her versatility by switching from tap dancing to ballet; in "Born to Dance" she introduces a bewildering array of routines, including even an original version of the current popular "swing" tempo.

In its magnificent settings, eye-filling ensembles, every one of whose dancers must be a beauty-prize winner, the interesting naval backgrounds and the general luxury of the proceedings, the picture is definitely in the tradition of "The Great Ziegfeld." Dave Gould did a brilliant job of supervising the dances, and the direction of Del

Ruth adds immeasurably to the success of the whole.

The story of "Born to Dance" involves the romance of a small-town girl who falls in love with a navy man and almost loses him to a show girl. The personable James Stewart is the navy man, and stunning Virginia Bruce gives an outstanding portrayal as the temperamental show girl. Also scoring in a topnotch supporting cast are Una Merkel and Sid Silvers furnishing laughs galore, the lovely-voiced Frances Langford of radio fame and Buddy Ebsen, the eccentric comedy hooper who scored in "Broadway Melody of 1936."

Parsonage Scene Of Supper Party

WINTERSBURG, Nov. 28.—A Thanksgiving supper party was enjoyed Tuesday evening at the parsonage home of Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, by the Epworth League cabinet of the Wintersburg Methodist church, who afterward had their business meeting. As the date was the Rev. and Mrs. Thompson's birthday anniversary a birthday cake was served at the supper.

Present for the evening were John Tucker, Margery Bernger, Alice Slater, Naomi Stinson, Helen Bernger, Jimmie Letson, Rev. and Mrs. Thompson.

'BIG BROADCAST' OPENS SUNDAY AT WALKER'S

Screen, stage and radio headliners have been assembled in a gigantic cast of star entertainers for "The Big Broadcast of 1937," which opens a four-day engagement at Walker's new theater, Third and Bush streets, tomorrow.

Some of the entertainers are Jack Benny, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Bob Burns, Martha Raye, Leopold Stokowski and his Symphony orchestra, Benny Goodman and his Swing orchestra, Shirley Ross and Eleanor Whitney.

The story has to do with the efforts of Benny as manager of a radio station to keep Gracie Allen, sponsor of an important program, happy.

The second feature on the double bill is a Charlie Ruggles-Marjorie Boland comedy, "Wives Never Know." The plot concerns the way Adolphe Menjou steers his matrimonial bark on the rocks and the way they get even with him afterward.

A news reel brings interesting events from all parts of the world.

FIELDS COMEDY HEADS BILL AT STATE THEATER

"Poppy" with W. C. Fields and Rochelle Hudson in the leading roles, brings a heart-touching story of comedy, pathos and romance to the screen of the State theater Sunday and Monday. Fields is cast as a patent-medicine man and tent show follower who does all he can to aid the romance of his 18-year-old ward. The girl falls in love with Richard Cromwell, son of the mayor in one of the towns they visit, and the old faker conceals a scheme to help the matter along, but it nearly meets disaster before the end. The cast also includes Lynne Overman, Catherine Doucet and Rosalind Keith.

"Man Hunt" is the second feature. It is the story of the adventures of a reporter, school teacher, landit and ex-sheriff, with William Gargan, Marguerite Churchill, Ricardo Cortez and Chic Sale in these respective roles.

Girl Scouts Plan Christmas Party

OCEANVIEW, Nov. 28.—A Christmas party for December 23 was planned by Oceanview Girl Scouts at their meeting held Tuesday evening in the Scout cabin. The party will be held at the home of Betty McCann. This will be a dinner party with each girl contributing. Mothers of the girls will furnish the entertainment for the party.

At the next Scout meeting numbers are to be drawn for a gift exchange for the Christmas party which is to be held around the Christmas tree.

Four visitors joined the Scouts at Tuesday evening's meeting. Betty McKenzie, Ruth Brown, Isabelle Tucker and Ruth Whitaker. Mrs. McCann and Mrs. King were the Scout committee members present for the meeting.

Hostess Trio Presides At Smart Affair

It was the pleasant experience of Mrs. R. S. Chandler, Mrs. H. T. Dunlap and Mrs. Mark Lacy, to be the first hostess group entertaining formally at luncheon and bridge in the pleasant surroundings of Daniger's, so recently opened to such social functions as that at which time three close friends presided yesterday as one of the major events of the holiday week.

Keying their decorative appointments to the coral and white scheme of Daniger's, the hostesses chose feathery white chrysanthemums as the flowers in evidence at the luncheon hour. These were arranged with maidenhair fern in long narrow containers on each of the grouped tables.

At the luncheon's close, way was led to the adjoining card room where the smart white bridge tables and their matching chairs were called into service for a session of contract. Those making high scores at the seven tables in play, received the attractive prizes selected by their hostesses, the group including Mrs. A. I. Mellenthin, Mrs. Wade Warner, Mrs. Robert G. Tuttle, Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon, Mrs. Adam Zaiser, Mrs. Fred C. Rowland and Mrs. Marguerite D. Borgmeyer.

With yesterday's luncheon as an introductory one to a series of smart winter hostilities, each of the three hostesses will officiate at parties of equal charm from time to time during the coming months.

Grandparents Arrive In Time for Party

Adding to the joys of little Patsy Ann Mathews' birthday party Wednesday afternoon, was the presence of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Green, who arriving from Kokomo, Ind. to spend the winter, reached here in time for the birthday party and the succeeding day's Thanksgiving observance.

Several of Patsy Ann's little friends were invited in for an afternoon of games in which prizes were won by Bobbie and Beverly Cole. In this group were Virginia May and Margaret Jean Visse, Dorothy Dally, Georgia Lou Chapman, Bobbie and Beverly Cole, Donna Dale Campbell, Sue Hawks, and Vera Jean Nielsen.

Mrs. Mathews was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Susan and by Mrs. R. A. Hawkins in entertaining the children and in service ice cream and candy with the birthday cake. After refreshments the children enjoyed an hour of motion pictures during which the hostess screened Mickey Mouse and Our Gang comedies.

Dining Room Display To Feature Club Event

Having arranged for an exhibit of fine china, silver and crystal in connection with a meeting of Woman's club of Santa Ana Tuesday afternoon in Veterans' hall, program committee members today announced that each member will be permitted to bring a guest to the affair.

Scheduled for 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the meeting will feature the display of table appointments together with dining room furnishings supplied by a local firm. Mrs. E. G. Maier is chairman of arrangements.

HOME FROM NORTH

Returning yesterday to their home in this city, Mrs. Laura Jones and son William, 510 East Sixth street, had concluded a ten-day trip which reached a happy climax with a Thanksgiving Day celebration at Ojai, Calif.

The Santa Anans spent the early part of their visit in Greenfield with Mrs. James' brother-in-law and sister. Holiday dinner was enjoyed in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Wharton and son, James Jr. The Whartons, former residents of this community, expect to return to Orange county soon to take up residence in the family cottage, "Home James" at Laguna Beach.

Thanksgiving Bride

That serene beauty which snowy flowers and soft candlelight gave to Episcopal Church of The Messiah late Thanksgiving afternoon, made it a fitting frame for a lovely bride, Miss Barbara Horton, as she exchanged wedding vows with Hansell U. Coulson of Tucson, Ariz. The marriage of the young people crowned a romance of University of Arizona, where both were students. They are now en route to Tucson by automobile and a home is all in readiness for their coming.—Photo by Milan Miller.

Afternoon Tea Presented For College Guest

In compliment to Miss Betty Pratt of Fredonia, Kans., who is spending the holiday recess from studies at Scripps with her college mate, Miss Nancy White, 2115 North Broadway, was a friendly tea at which Miss White entertained yesterday afternoon.

Many of the guests were, like hostess and honoree, home from college or university for Thanksgiving. Others are enjoying a brief respite from Junior college studies. So it was to be expected that the informal chat of the afternoon hinged upon college affairs, activities and ambitions.

In serving her tea menu as the afternoon waned, Miss White was assisted by Miss Ione Hooven, home from U. S. C. and entertaining two of her college friends for the holidays. These are the Misses Erma Caron whose home is in Dallas, Tex., and Carol Whitney of South Dakota. Both were present yesterday, dividing special guest honors with Miss Pratt, and enjoying contact with the Misses Jean Reuter, Barbara Rowland, Helena Bailey, Betty Lee, Frances Was, Charlotte Mock, Valerie Demetriou and Betty Campbell, who completed the guest list.

Other Events
Miss White and Miss Pratt were enjoying a day of shopping and theater in Los Angeles today in company with the former's mother, Mrs. Emrys D. White. Upon their return home this evening, it will be with anticipations of the arrival tomorrow of Mrs. White's father, G. R. Featherly, coming from Dillon, Mont., to spend the winter. Last year he spent the winter months to the home of his son, C. M. Featherly, so this winter will be at the White home.

Emrys D. White is expected to arrive from Dillon well in advance of the Yule holidays, when he will complete his family's enjoyment of the season. He was unable to be here for Thanksgiving, so Mrs. White had the responsibility of planning the family celebration alone. She received in addition to the family circle, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth and Albert Pickhardt, completing a group which included the Emrys Whites Jr., Miss Nancy White, Miss Pratt, and Miss Carolyn White, recently arrived from Dillon to spend the winter with her brother and sister-in-law.

Wait A Minute

Thanksgiving in the past and Christmas just around the corner. Twinkling Christmas trees will soon blossom in homes and gardens. Santa Anans interested in beautifying our own home city might venture into L. A. December 7 when Women's Community Service auxiliary to L. A. Chamber of Commerce will lunch at the Biltmore at noon.

Reason: to stimulate interest in planting and lighting outdoor trees. . . . We already have lots of them here each year, plus charming homes for them to grace. . . . Speaking of homes, we like particularly that of Eleanor (Teacher-Mrs. Robert) Northcross and Son Robert, where substantial pieces of family furniture, lovely heirloom china and books, books, books, give an individual charm that no modern example of the interior decorator's art can achieve.

The same thing applies to the home of BeeDee and Bill (Realtor) Spurgeon, where everything in the house is used and enjoyed. Floors show the effect of the gay little house-dances staged with such frequency by Daughter Sherill (Mrs. William) Rice and Son Bill (Pomona Col.) Spurgeon. Turn hillwards to Panorama Heights where Mable and J. F. (Radio Owner) Burke maintain a hospitality so heart-warming that when you enter the home, it is yours for the time being. And wouldn't we love to have for keeps, some of its fine early American furniture!

Crossing over to Lemon Heights, there are so many delightful places! We like that quaint little walled garden at the home of Ray and Ernest (Drama Teacher) Phillips and the heavenly point where one may sway in a garden swing and gaze on the whole walled panorama. . . . Such opportunities for star gazing from the observatory of Ana and John (Ins. Agent) Tubbs! . . . Down among the groves lovely memories haunt Los Alisos where Josephine and A. J. Cruickshank live in a scene which once knew Madame Helene Modjeska, now a perfect frame for Mrs. A. J.'s gracious and serene personality. . . . Home!

It needs no glamour of wealth and luxury to make the word one of the most heart-searching ones in the English language. . . . We have in mind a small cottage on one of the roads to Irvine park, with two great trees arching up from either end of the narrow verandah and making it a divine spot where we are sure happiness dwells.

Just one big happy family were Marie and Holmes (Orange grower) Bishop. Velma (Daughter) and John (News Service) Dunlap and all the others in the Thanksgiving family circle. It was well-known home to the Singing Bishops, just returned from eastern travels including Boston where both used to study at the Conservatory. . . . Santa Ana Jaycees won the conference—so the boys will have a duck dinner Tuesday with Jane and Elton (Creamery Co.) Holmes out on Newport Road. Son Bob (Center) Holmes and maybe half a hundred players will share the feast.

Cooper at the recent preview of his picture here? Lucille (Duck and Pretty) Holmes was one that did—and even got his autograph! . . . Bishop, Velma (Daughter) team to her striking types with red hair and snappy brown eyes. . . . Wylie (Recorder's Office) Carlyle, who is to convey Ted (Register) Stephenson to the altar when Ted and Betty (Flanice) Rowland go Lohengrinning, is walking on air for that—and other reasons, chief of which is that he is a very proud godfather to John Wylie Keeler, brand new son of Velma and John Keeler of Balboa Island.

Ebbel peacock room, which last night was like a flower garden when Girls' Ebbel members danced, will blossom again tonight for Junior Ebbel dancers. . . . Hazel (Mrs. Herb) Stroschen and a whole group of the girls have been working like termites (quietly you know, but steadily) getting the whole clubhouse dolled up—to say nothing of themselves. . . . Bert (Attorney) West striding down town very Beau Brummellish indeed in gray with vivid blue handkerchief peeking coyly from his vest pocket to eye a tie in the same shade. . . . Elizabeth Hill all a-flutter over the marriage of one of her close friends, now Mrs. William Rasmussen, but Lucille Crawford up until noon on Thanksgiving Day. . . . Random Shots: Frances (Mrs. Lucius) Conkey driving with her brand new bridegroom. . . . Stanley (Auto Club) Morgan blushing when called a cute nickname by an equally cute l'il gal. . . . Evelyn (Rankin's) Scherbert of the fascinating "widow's peak" in her black hair, quite as smartly attired as usual, doing a few errands during her noon hour. . . . Leona and Earl (Automotive) Vin-

Santa Anans Attend Son's Wedding in Oxnard

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Solomon, 1014 Riverine avenue, here in Oxnard Thursday for the marriage of their son, John A. Solomon, 1014 Riverine avenue, were daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Donlin of Oxnard. The bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Mitchell of this city were among the guests present.

The ceremony took place in the Catholic rectory at high noon with 40 relatives of the couple present for the impressive rite. The bride wore a rust-hued suit of ostrich cloth with a corsage bouquet of roses. Her sister, Miss Nazarene Donlin, maid of honor, was attired in grey with a cluster of roses. George Shinn of Oxnard was best man.

Following the ceremony was a reception in the ranch home of Mrs. Donlin. With their pretty frocks, Mrs. Donlin and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Solomon, wore corsage bouquets of gardenias.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Solomon left for Santa Barbara, where they will establish their home. Mr. Solomon is manager of the clothing department of the Santa Barbara Outfitting company. He had his schooling in this city, and the bride attended Oxnard schools.

Sorority Members Are To Dine and Share Theater Party

Phi Omega sorority had its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Annie Tucker, 616 North Shelton street. Plans for the Christmas party to be held December 4, were discussed, and it was decided that the club would have dinner and attend a show in Los Angeles.

Food brought by members was taken by the pledges to the Salvation Army for Thanksgiving distribution. The pledges also assisted in serving refreshments. Members present were the Misses Jean Upshall, Gertrude Vaughn, Alice Nelson, Jane McBurney, Helen Fine, the pledges, Miss Tucker, Mrs. Roland Vincent, Mrs. Lester Doyle, and pledges, Miss Ruth Wasson and Miss Phyllis Heffe.

Local Group Attends Fraternity Convention

Opening yesterday for a three-day session in Los Angeles, Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary educational journalistic fraternity will hold its annual western division convention, with several Orange county residents planning to attend.

Among those at the Biltmore hotel last night for a dinner dance as the opening social feature of the conclave were Mr. and Mrs. E. Ainsworth, Laguna Beach; Miss Helen Smith-Mabe, Santa Ana; Stanley Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Nelson and Miss Mildred Watson, Orange. Embassy hotel will be headquarters for the event. Miss Elsa Magnus of San Francisco, who is in the Southland, for the convention, was entertained at Thanksgiving dinner by Miss Mabe, 301 South Garnsey street.

Introducing Today—

MRS. LEONARD HAWKINS

MRS. GEORGE WINTER

MRS. JEAN GORDON LANGFORD

MISS HELEN KNOX

MRS. LEONARD HAWKINS
It was on Monday evening, November 16 that Miss Katherine Vanderhorst, daughter of Ben Vanderhorst of this city, became the bride of Leonard Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hawkins, also of Santa Ana, at quiet rites in the rectory of St. Joseph's Catholic church. The young people are located at 1344 South Maple street, where they are making plans for a mid-winter honeymoon to be spent in the Yosemite.

MRS. GEORGE WINTER
Reigning charmingly over her "honeymoon home" at 617 1-2 North Van Ness avenue, Mrs. George Winter is receiving the many friends who showed such warm interest in the formal church wedding at which she and Miss Lois Lamb, was wedded on October 18 to George Alfred Winter. The young couple followed the wedding and its reception with a motor trip north before settling down to the pleasant responsibilities of a home. Mrs. Winter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Lamb, 530 South Sycamore street.

MRS. JEAN LANGFORD
A home in Honolulu is in prospect for Mrs. Jean Gordon Langford, who was Miss Maxine Lawrence Mortenson, 419 Nineteenth street, prior to her marriage of November 21 in First Presbyterian church. The young couple will sail early in December cent telling about their cozy week-end in Harlow Haven at Lake Arrowhead. . . . Congrats to Billie (Mrs. Kenney) Adams for her sale of quite original greeting card verses. . . . Annette (Contest Winner, Mrs. Harriet) Smith and Blanche (Mrs. Brown) skylarking off to Palm Springs in Annette's new car. . . . Bob (Newsstand) Guild buying provender for a late supper for Wife Betty to prepare. . . . Donna (Blonde) Jensen with another style of hair-dressing. . . . John (Teacher) Swarthout admitting that he is too don't an average of three times a week, that he looks like Lawrence Tibbitt. . . . The point of the affair is that he actually does!

FAMILY PARTY
Mrs. Mary Kingsbury was hostess to her two daughters and their families in her home at 834 Riverine avenue Thursday for Thanksgiving dinner. The families included Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clark and sons Chester Jr. and Jack; Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Bruns and daughter Virginia; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Daley of Long Beach. Mrs. Daley was the former Miss Lorraine Clark of this city.

from a Canadian port, and made their trip north for the sailing, a part of their honeymoon. Mr. Langford is department manager with a large ironworks of the islands.

MISS HELEN KNOX
Tonight's Junior Ebbel society formal dance in the clubhouse will be a program affair, with Miss Helen Knox as chairman of the program committee. In addition to the recently organized Orange County Bruin club, of which she is secretary. While a student at U. C. L. A., she became affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She is a member of the teaching faculty of Garden Grove Grammar school.

parted for San Francisco. Mr. Williams, the youngest of the three sons of the well known Tustin family, recently returned from a season in Alaska, where he is connected with a large mining corporation.

The bride, an accomplished musician, has been prominent in music circles on the U. S. C. campus for the past three years.

Upon their return from a northern honeymoon, Albert Gerald Williams and his bride, the former Miss Dorcas Lurline England of Phoenix, Ariz., will occupy the family home on Williams street, Tustin while the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Williams are enjoying a trip through California.

The marriage of the couple took place Monday evening, November 23 in the Los Angeles home of Mrs. Russell Carrioco, a college friend of the bride. Thirty guests, including relatives from Arizona, Oklahoma and Texas assembled to witness the marriage ceremony.

The charming bride was attired in white moire with black hat and a bouquet of white gardenias and maidenhair fern. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Geraldine England of Beverly Hills, Ralph E. Williams of Los Angeles was his brother's best man.

Bride's cake and ice cream were served, and in the meantime, the new Mr. and Mrs. Williams de-

Miss McPhee Wedded Today In San Diego

Motoring to San Diego today, Mr. and Mrs. Barry McPhee of Whittier, formerly of this city, were among the little group of guests present for the wedding of their charming young daughter, Miss Joy McPhee, and Russell B. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erskine G. Porter, residents of Whittier for many years.

Miss McPhee was a member of Las Meninas at Santa Ana Junior college, from where she was graduated with the class of 1932. A native of this city, she is a granddaughter of the late George McPhee, pioneer resident of this community and former editor of a local newspaper.

The wedding today was very quiet, with Mr. and Mrs. McPhee and their daughter and son, Shirley and Barry Jr., and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Porter in attendance. The bride wore black velvet with a corsage cluster of gardenias. Her mother was in a smart brown costume, and Mrs. Erskine Porter was in black.

The little group enjoyed a wedding dinner following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Porter left for a honeymoon trip to Green Valley, where they will spend several days in the mountain cabin of the bridegroom's uncle, Edward Porter of Whittier, they will reside at 131 South Pierce street, and the bridegroom will resume his duties with the Edison company. He is well known in the Quaker City, where he finished his schooling in 1932. He made a brilliant athletic record, excelling in a number of sports.

House Party
A family houseparty over the Thanksgiving holidays was held at Lake Arrowhead in compliment to the betrothed couple. The mountain home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dennis of Orange, was setting for festivities.

In the group with Miss McPhee and her fiancé were Mr. and Mrs. McPhee and daughter and son, Shirley and Barry Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Duff Dean and son, Wallace; Mrs. George McPhee.

AFTER-DANCE PARTY

Asking a group of friends to share her hospitality after the Junior college A.W.S. dance Wednesday night, Miss Dorothy Coe entertained in her sister's home, 141 North Cambridge street, Orange, at a waffle supper. The small tables were gay with Mexican table cloths, and the red and yellow and green candles in the center of each table had orange and yellow lanterns around the waffles, sliced ham and coffee by her mother, Mrs. J. E. Coe, Miss Marion Mattson and Miss Faria Nell Clayton.

Guests included the Misses Marion Mattson, Faria Nell Clayton, Helen Lowe, Roberta Nicholls, the hostess, Miss Coe, and their escorts, the Messrs. Jim Doyle, Kenneth Huest, Preston Piper, Arthur Salisbury and Harold Youel.

TURKEY DINNER

Thanksgiving day occasioned a pleasant celebration in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fowler, 531 Linwood street, where turkey dinner was served as a feature of an enjoyable afternoon. Vari-colored chrysanthemums graced the table, which was appointed in pink glassware.

Sharing the affair were the hosts' nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCoy, former Kansas City, Mo., residents now living in Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey, Van Nuys; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Buxton, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Simpson and children, Raymond Jr. and Mary; Mr. and Mrs. William Lane and children, Mary and Billy.

Eight o'Clock Rites Read In M. E. Chapel

Two well known families of the community were brought together by the marriage Thursday evening of Miss Frances Knudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Knudson, 618 East Walnut street, and John Hawkes Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Green of Orange.

The ceremony was one of the prettiest of the Thanksgiving Day weddings, taking place at 8 o'clock in the evening in Methodist Episcopal Bride Chapel, Dr. George A. Warner officiated at the rite, during which Edward Burns played softly on the piano. Miss Ruth Armstrong was at the piano, playing a number of love songs as well as the Wedding Marches.

Members of the bridal party took their places at the altar, which was adorned with baskets of white chrysanthemums presenting an unusually lovely appearance in the glow of tall cathedral tapers.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white lace over satin, with a bouquet of bride's roses and bouvardia centered with gardenias which later formed a corsage corsage for her traveling costume. Mrs. K. Stacey (Helen Price) of Santa Beach was matron of honor, wearing a deep rose taffeta frock and carrying tea roses. Mrs. Chester Bratch and Mrs. Charles Webster were attractive attendants in their pretty frocks of turquoise blue slipper satin with bouquets of Tulleman roses.

Roll Bonner was best man, while Reed Tuddenham and Leonard Lockhart were ushers.

Home Reception

The wedding was followed by a reception in the Knudson home, where a lovely floral setting had been arranged. Miss Mildred Tummond, who aided in arranging decorations for the affair, also assisted in serving. Others joining in dispensing the hospitality of the home were the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jo Green, Miss Marcella Turner of Orange, Mrs. Gary Browning (Eloise Owens) of Los Angeles and Miss Viola Tummond.

Mrs. Knudson was in a blue lace gown with Hollywood roses, and the bridegroom's mother wore black velvet with gardenias.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Green donned a rust colored frock with accessories in black. She and her husband will make their home at 618-1-2 East Walnut street, and Mr. Green will resume his duties next week as a teacher in Riverside schools. Their wedding trip will be postponed until a later date.

Schooling

The bride, a teacher in Santa Ana schools, is a member of Junior Ebell society. She had her early schooling in this city, graduating from Santa Ana High school and Junior college, then attending Cumberland school. She received her A. B. degree at Occidental college, as did Mr. Green, who then took a fifth year of study at University of California, Berkeley. He was graduated from Harvard Military school and attended Santa Ana Junior college before entering Occidental. A native of England, the bridegroom came to Orange county with his parents when he was but a small boy.

ARRIVAL OF GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Pinkerton of Pierre, So. Dak., arrived in time to spend Thanksgiving in the home of Mrs. Pinkerton's brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Drake, 327 Normandy Place and with Mrs. Ida Hall, mother of the two sisters. Mr. Drake was down from his teaching duties in Los Angeles, but Mrs. Drake was not able to be home from the hospital to spend the holiday with her family.

She is convalescing at St. Joseph hospital from a serious attack of pneumonia, but is improving so rapidly now that she anticipates being home during part of the ten days visit of her brother-in-law and sister. R. S. Pinkerton is in the Indian service, and is taking advantage of his autumn vacation to enjoy a motor trip of the west.

Scene Of Youthful Charm Staged In Ebell Clubhouse

Lovely as was the Ebell peacock room with its clusters of bright balloons, its great plumes of pampas grass, its lights and general air of festivity, the chief charm last night when Girls' Ebell society presented a gala holiday dancing party, was that of youth. Members of the hostess society in their crisp taffeta dance frocks, their flaring French organdies and their soft crepes, were lovely as any flowers that grow in Southland gardens.

It was to the strains of the most intriguing music imaginable that the young people whirled in the mazes of the dance, and the program played by the Hank Rankin orchestra, won their unequalled approval.

The punch table was located conveniently, and there the dances were served by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Segerstrom, their sister-in-law, Mrs. Eric Segerstrom of Sonoma, and Mrs. C. H. Hollis. Other chaperons present included Mayor and Mrs. Fred C. Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Davis, Mrs. Emory D. White and Colonel and Mrs. M. Burr Wellington.

The decorative effect of balloons was made especially attractive by the use of flood lights which brought out their brilliant colors as they swayed like clusters of gigantic grapes, above the heads of the dancers.

Many parties were given in connection with the dance. The A. H. Segerstrom home, 1314 Victoria drive, was a delightful rendezvous for many of the young people, who met there to continue in a party to the clubhouse. Miss Ruth Ann Segerstrom and her brother Henry were hosts in honor of their visiting cousins, Miss Marjorie Segerstrom, a student at Stanford, and Miss Martha Segerstrom, who attends Mills college, and Miss Martha's room-mate, Miss Alice Jack of Boston, Mass.

Quite a number of young people including several Santa Ana students at California Institute of Technology and other colleges and universities, completed this group.

Late Supper

In the Howard Timmons home on Red Hill avenue, Miss Betty Timmons was hostess at a post-dance supper of gay charm. Supper tables were laid in the big playroom, scene of so many of the home's friendly hospitalities, and there the young people relished the enjoyable evening as they enjoyed the supper menu.

With the young hostess, Miss Betty, were the Misses Jean Dowds, Willis Fay, Betty Porter of Fullerton, and Betty Holmes with their escorts, Messrs. Larry Tway, Charles Carrillo, James Waters, Louis Tadlock and Allan Patterson.

In Howell Home

A similar scene of youthful gaiety prevailed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Howell, 2032 Greenleaf street, as a sequel to the dance. There Miss Betty Lou Marble, daughter of the home, was supper hostess to a group of close friends including some from out of the city.

With Miss Betty Lou were the Misses Eleanor Cogan, Marguerite Pimental, Jacqueline Brandon, Norma Daly, Dolly Raitt and Nancy Del Russell. Their escorts were Messrs. Robert Newcom, Bob Marshall, David Withall, Tommie Daley of Los Angeles, Douglas Forsyth, Jack Munn and Ambrose Wycoff.

Holiday Party Held In Broomell Home

Thanksgiving day found 36 relatives and close friends assembled in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Broomell, 1325 Mabury street, for a happy gathering which reached its climax with the serving of a delicious dinner in the late afternoon.

The ranch home provided an ideal setting for the party and since the day was more like summer than early winter, much of the time was spent outdoors.

Santa Anans sharing the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Broomell were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Broomell; the hosts' son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Broomell; Dr. and Mrs. Harry Kendall and son, Richard; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kendall and daughter, Marydith; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kendall, with their granddaughter, Miss Betty Lou Kendall, who attended school in Azusa.

Among out of town relatives in the group were the C. A. Broomell's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dexter and young son, Charles Edward of Los Angeles, who plan to leave soon for the north. Mrs. Dexter will be remembered as Miss Alberta Broomell. Mrs. C. A. Broomell's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Garland B. Couch of Phoenix, Ariz., who are wintering in Long Beach, joined the party.

Completing the group were Long Beach and Los Angeles relatives of the host, C. A. Broomell and of his brother, J. W. Broomell.

Job's Daughters

Parents of Job's Daughters, joined the young girls of that organization in a happy pre-holiday dinner party of the covered dish variety Tuesday evening in Masonic temple, with Miss Josephine Butler as general chairman of arrangements.

Later the Daughters took part in an interesting meeting during which election and initiation were outstanding events. Miss Charlotte McCausland was elevated to the post of honored queen, and officers elected to serve with her were the Misses Mary Crowe, senior princess; Margaret Abel, guide, and Betty Hartman, marshal. Miss McCausland will name her appointive officers in advance of initiation.

The latter event is scheduled for December 15 at 8 p. m. in Masonic temple, with all interested friends invited to be present. Miss McCausland will preside at her first meeting on the evening of December 22 when the Christmas party and exchange of 15-cent gifts will be featured. She succeeds Miss Dorothy Carlson in office.

Initiation rites were conducted for the Misses Marjorie Ball, Virginia Marlow, Lorraine Tarbox, Virginia Rhine, Chelena McBurney, Margie Pleinwider and Betty Jean Koster. Pins awarded for outstanding work in the betel, went to the Misses Esther Belle Christian, Elizabeth Wimbler, Eupha Neer and Helen Meyers.

KIWANIS PLAN PARTY

Although the date for the annual Kiwanis Christmas party, to be held as usual in conjunction with the installation of new officers, is yet almost three weeks in advance, plans are well under way on the part of the club entertainment committee for the evening's entertainment features.

R. C. Raddant, chairman of the committee, has announced the date of Thursday, December 17 for the gala event, which this year will be staged at Santa Ana Country club, always a favorite rendezvous for Kiwanians and Kiwanettes. The evening's varied features will open with the inaugural banquet at 7 o'clock, when R. B. Newcom will assume the office of president which has been held this year by Dr. Melbourne Mabee.

Recent Bride Showered With Kitchen Gifts

Yellow kitchen accessories in bright array were presented to Mrs. Lucius Conkey (Frances Parks) last night when she was honored at a post-nuptial shower which had its setting in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Morris, 1233 Maple street. Mrs. Frank Musselman Jr. and Mrs. Carleton Smith were co-hostesses with Mrs. Morris.

Gaily-wrapped packages for the honoree were assembled in a bedecked clothes basket which was a gift to Mrs. Conkey from the three hostesses.

Checking on tallies at the close of an evening of bridge revealed that Mrs. Don Wilcox and Miss Marjorie Walton were winners of the attractive prizes which had been selected for first and second high scorers.

Furthering the sunny motif suggested by the shower gifts, the hostesses used many yellow baby mums in decorations. White tulle rising from fluffed yellow celophane holders lighted daintily laden tables where dessert course was served at the evening's close.

Invited to share the affair with the three hostesses and the honoree, Mrs. Conkey were Messrs. Don Wilcox, Russell Hind, Jack Tinch, Herbert Caldwell and Miss Frances Egan, Laguna Beach; Mrs. John Fleutich, Prado; Mrs. Jesse Parks, Anaheim; Mrs. Conkey's mother and two sisters, Mrs. Gay Parks, Mrs. Russell Goetting and Miss La Vene Parks, with Mrs. Leonard Eekies and Miss Marjorie Walton, Santa Ana; Mrs. Dale Park, Mrs. Virginia Nason, Mrs. Paul Snow, and Miss Hazel Elton, Tustin.

HOME FOR HOLIDAY

Mrs. P. L. Etchison, 1119 Bush street, who has been in La Vida sanitarium for the past six weeks, arrived home in time for a quiet celebration shared Thanksgiving day by a little family group.

Joining Mr. and Mrs. Etchison for the happy gathering were their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hershey of San Diego and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gee and daughter Dorietta of Long Beach. The beach residents and Mr. Hershey were here just for the day, but Mrs. Hershey has been here for several days, planning to conclude her visit to-day.

Mrs. Etchison, who has been in ill health for some time, is reported making a slow recovery.

FAMILY PICNIC

Jack Fisher park was scene of a happy gathering Thursday afternoon when a group of relatives held a Thanksgiving picnic. Sharing the affair were Messrs. and Madames N. H. Leonard, C. E. Minter and daughters, Claudine and Ernestine; William Richardson and sons, Kenneth, Robert and Nereus; Neal Minter, C. W. Todd and children, Billy, Harold, Donald and Marion; D. C. Minter and children, Jack, Dan and Clifford; Clarence Minter and daughter, Marlene; W. L. Vose; E. W. Wiley and daughters, Marjorie and Lorene; with Messrs. William Bradley and Ted Richardson.

Chapel Rites In This City Unite Couple

Musical for the Thanksgiving day nuptials of Miss Alida Weaver, daughter of Mrs. Lucy Weaver of this city, and Kenneth Gorton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton of Newport Beach, was the same as had been planned for the wedding of the bride's mother, The bride's aunt, Mrs. Bernard Wash was the pianist for Thursday's ceremony, just as she was for the first wedding years ago.

Santa Ana Wedding Chapel's patio was scene of the ceremony, which was read at 3 o'clock in the afternoon by the Rev. Earl C. Ploss. Sunlight streaming through the lattice work enhanced the charm of the floral setting. Growing ferns and other plants provided a background of greenery for bouquets of colorful fall flowers.

Musical Program

Mrs. Wash played "I Love You Truly," "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses" and Mendelssohn's Wedding March, closing the musical in-lane with "When the Lights are Low," the number which had been played for the wedding years ago.

Miss Weaver was attired in a charming velvet afternoon costume in a new fall rust shade, with accessories in brown. For the "something borrowed," she wore a strand of pearls belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt, a close friend of the family. Tallman roses and ferns formed the bride's bouquet.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Earl E. Wilson, who wore a formal afternoon frock of moire, with a quaint little nosegay of Tallman roses at her throat, and black accessories. Mr. Wilson was best man.

Trip North

For traveling, the new Mrs. Gorton donned a brown wool suit with green and brown costume belt. On their return from a honeymoon trip to San Francisco and other northern points, the newly-married couple will be at home to their friends at 2600 East Central avenue, Balboa Beach.

Mr. Gorton has been associated with Newport Beach Police department for the past several years. His bride is secretary in the district office of Southern California Telephone company in this city.

Guests

Wedding guests were Mrs. Lucy Weaver, Miss Phyllis Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Weaver and children, Marilyn and Stanley; Bert Goodale, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wilson, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton and Miss Catherine Gorton, Newport Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wash, Van Nuys; Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goodale and Miss Beryl Goodale, Glendale.

Little Maid Shares Birthday Joys

Little Miss Dorothy Young's sixth birthday was celebrated Wednesday afternoon when a group of her friends gathered at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Young, 1265 South Ross street.

The children enjoyed playing games and the course of the afternoon, with prizes going to Gwen Merigold and Mary Woods. Later, Mrs. Young was assisted in serving refreshments of ice cream and birthday cake by Messdames Lewis H. Williams, J. Merigold and Raymond A. Woods.

The table was prettily decorated in pink and white with a centerpiece of an ice cream cake with pink candles. At each place were nut cups and favors tied with pink ribbons coming from the center. The favors were tiny baby dolls, and bon bons. Daintily wrapped gifts were presented to the birthday honoree at the door.

Guests present were Patty McKerly, Patsy Williams, Gwen Merigold, Mary Woods, Ardath Newcomer and the little hostess, Dorothy Young. Mothers were Messdames Williams, Merigold and Woods.

Roosevelt Carnival

The carnival held by the Roosevelt P. T. A. recently was well attended. There was a program after dinner was served. The program consisted of numbers by the Scheer piano accordion band, dance numbers by students from the Vera Gerry school, a Negro play by Jack and Richard Northrup.

At carnival booths were sold sandwiches, candy, fancy work, novelties and white elephant articles. There was also a fish pond, game room and a display of puppets.

Double Rites Are Chosen By Bride Cousins

Choosing the same time for their marriages, Miss Clarine Palmer and Miss Blanche Temple, cousins, were married Wednesday afternoon, November 25, at a quiet double wedding in the parsonage of the South Methodist church in San Diego with the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, former Spurgeon Memorial church pastor, reading the ceremony.

Miss Palmer, in duobont velvet formal gown with a camellia corsage and black accessories, became the bride of Robert Walton of Anaheim, while Miss Temple, in blue velvet with a gardenia corsage and black accessories, was wedded to Forest Leake of Midway City. Both brides were unattended.

The two couples took a short trip in the vicinity of San Diego, the new Mrs. Walton wearing a black sheer wool tunic with patent leather buttons and collar, and Mrs. Leake in dark green novelty wool with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Walton have returned and are at home to their friends on his ranch on Placencia avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Leake plan to return to Santa Ana today and will live in this city.

Mr. Walton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Walton of Orange, was graduated from Anaheim High school, and is now a rancher. Mrs. Walton, the daughter of Mrs. Blanche Palmer, 522 East Washington avenue, was graduated from the local high school, took an advanced course at University of Oregon, and had her nurses' training at the Alameda County hospital in Oakland. She was on the nursing staff of both the Orange county and St. Joseph hospitals here.

Mrs. Leake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Temple of 433 South Broadway, graduated from a girls' school in Memphis, Texas, and attended South Western University in Georgetown, Texas. She is now employed as a secretary in the Orange County Public Forum.

Mr. Leake, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Leake of Midway City, is also employed by the Orange County Public Forums.

TOYLAND

I have long since changed from creepers into long pants and yet, deep within my heart, is a yearning for an Electric Train. A train that runs on a track, that has semaphores, a depot and a tunnel. This repressed desire is made manifest each time I see one of these modern trains scoting around it track on demonstration.

I enjoy wandering through the maze of wagons, scooters, coasters that are so invitingly painted up, on the floors of Toyland. I like the miniature tools (not that I know how to use them) which are housed in such compact and serviceable chests. I like to watch the ecstasy on the faces of the youngsters, as each one finds his ideal, his soul's desire, the doll of her dreams and the doll-house of her imagination.

Toyland is the heaven of a child's imagination. To withhold this pleasure from him is an irreparable sin. Santa Ana has many fine and complete Toylands. Like taking the CHILDREN to the circus, making them an excuse, go along with them.

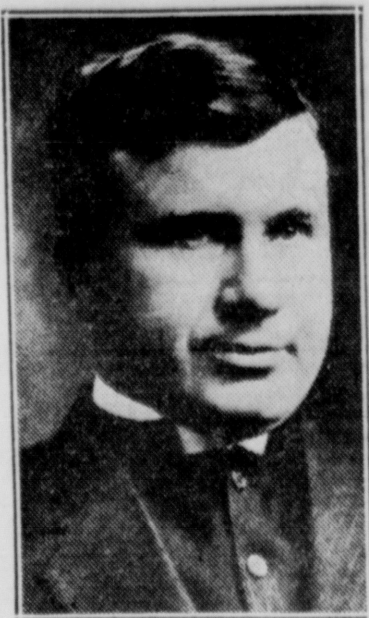

For children there is no show on earth comparable with Toyland before Christmas. Their joy knows no bounds — take them next Saturday.

God's Arithmetic

"Five of you shall chase a hundred, and a hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight."—Lev. 26:8.

It sounds like one of the intricate problems which used to be so distracting to us when we were children. Start out to solve it according to conventional methods and it will never come out right in the end for the reason that certain important factors are left out of the problem.

According to the exact arithmetical ratio, if five can chase a hundred, then one should be able to chase twenty, and one hundred should be able to chase two thousand. But God says ten thousand. Is God's arithmetic wrong? No, strangely enough, if we include the one factor left out of the original problem, God Himself, then it is most wonderfully right.

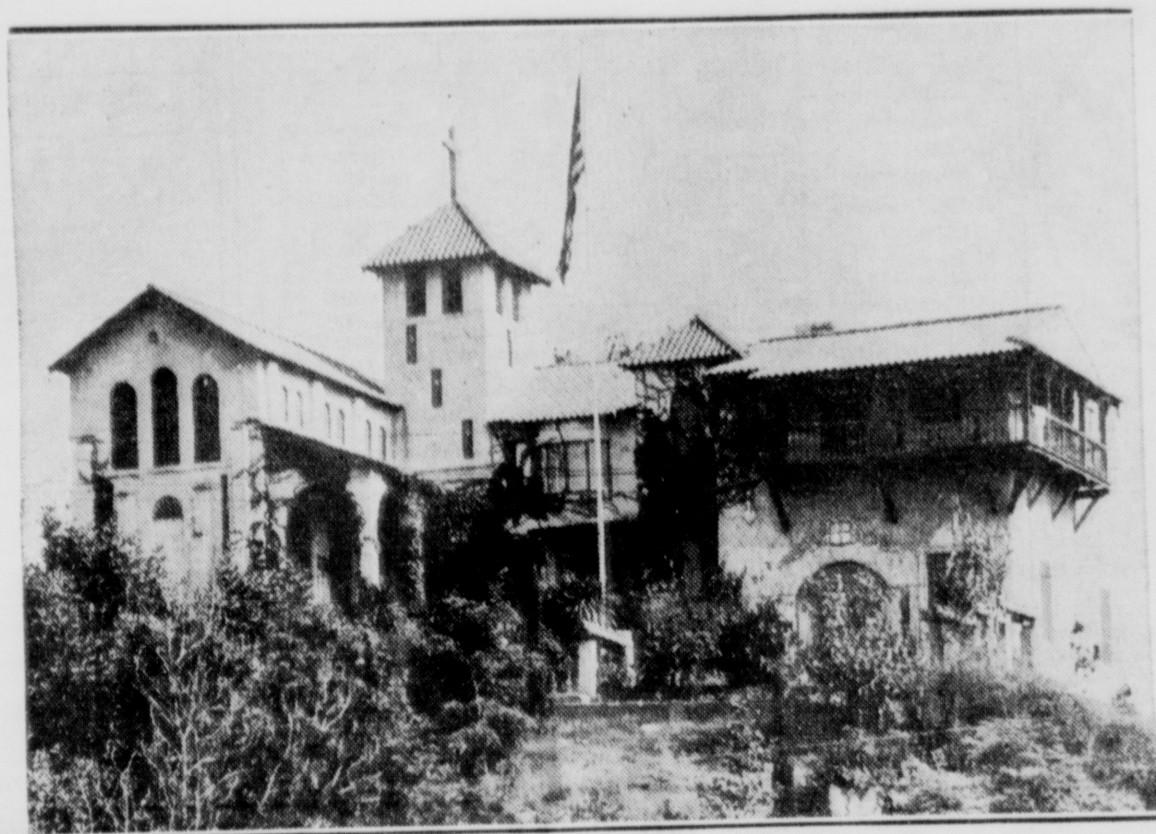

Military history tells of many cases where a small force of men, greatly outnumbered by the enemy, has successfully defended, or occupied, a strategic position. Several natural factors enter in which are taken for granted and therefore not stated: The small band of defenders were fighting for their homes and families, for something dearer to them than life; they put every ounce of energy and ingenuity into the fight. The large armies of the enemy were often made up of professional soldiers or mercenaries, without any personal interest at stake. It was so in our own history with the embattled farmers at Lexington; they fought the British mercenaries, inspired by a great passion. Much, too, depends upon the morale and spirit of the men. A sudden attack by the smaller force, with plenty of noise and movement, will often give an impression of greater strength and catch the enemy off his guard. The children of Israel used trumpets to sound the fear of God into the Canaanites before the walls of Jericho.

We have a battle to fight now. As children of God and disciples of Christ we need to strengthen our morale and sanctify our spirit. We need more than anything the spirit of co-operation.

The forces of evil neglect the spirit of co-operation. That's why the gang spirit in the underworld is practically unbeatable by ordinary methods. Government officers often get their man because they are independent of the forces of corruption and cannot be bribed by local racketeers. It is just because gangsters hang together for self-protection, except the few who are caught, that the underworld never lacks for recruits.

If the forces of morality and decency had the same co-operation that prevails in the underworld, none could estimate its power for good. If the God-fearing patriotic citizens in our quadrennial battle for place and power would only pool their influence for good, just think what it would mean! One man, or one woman can be a decent, God-fearing citizen without going to church, or supporting organized Christianity. But that same man or woman could use God's magical arithmetic and increase their influence in the cause of righteousness a thousand-fold.

To accurately gauge our own character, its productiveness and usefulness, we must estimate it in terms of faith. Our Lord once said, not meaning to be taken literally, that faith, even as little as a grain of mustard seed, could remove mountains. Not those mountains of earth and stone, which our engineers have succeeded in leveling to the surface of the ground — nothing so easy as that, but mountains of misery and degradation and pain which weigh down human hearts and fill the world with hopeless derelicts, life without purpose or power.

This Movement Is Made Possible by These Outstanding Public Spirited Citizens Who Are Striving to Make Our Community a Better Place in Which to Live.

Eugene Mark Is Guest Of Honor

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 28.—A group of young friends of Eugene Mark of Adams street, Midway City, were invited by Eugene's mother to join him in the celebration of his sixth birthday recently when she gave a party for her son. After the games the children were seated at an elaborately decorated table where refreshments of ice cream, cake and candy were served. The lovely anniversary cake which had centered the table and on which six candles gleamed, was out at this time, each child receiving a piece.

The children present at the party were the honor guest, Eugene Mark, Glenn Mark, Dean Marriott, Richard Marriott, Jerry Smith, Billy Keeler, Billy Bebermeyer, Phillip J. Rolly, Phillip Braybrook, Dick Stone, Vivian Hart, Dorothy Hart, Marcelene Mark, Joan Benningdorf, Mary Lou Gillespie, Jean Gillespie, Peggy Marchant, Rose Mary Marchant and Donald Mark.

Stamp News

By I. S. Klein

SOME of the former presidents of the United States who have not yet been portrayed on stamps may have their innings in the issue of new regular stamps expected next year. While Franklin D. Roosevelt is the 31st American to be president, the faces of only 17 have appeared on U. S. postage stamps.

Approach of the Christmas season has brought on the annual issue of charity stamps in a number of countries. Switzerland is among the first of these, with its regular "Pro Patria" souvenir stamps. These are three values of the same design on a special sheet, with suitable marginal inscriptions.

Another special issue at this time is Belgium's "Borgerhout" stamp, printed singly on a souvenir sheet, for the aid of a tuberculosis fund. Only 50,000 have been printed. At the same time, Belgium has printed another single-stamp souvenir sheet in honor of the city of Charleroi.

The Philippine trade commissioner at Washington hardly had received his assignment of the special issue of stamps honoring the two aviators who flew from Madrid to Manila recently than the stamps were all sold. No additional shipment is expected. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service, Inc.)

Brain Twizzlers

By Prof. J. D. Flint

An old and grizzled army sergeant whose military record had been lost began to get a little feeble after his years of hard service and when he showed signs of losing his bulldog grip on his men the commanding officer decided that he ought to go on the retirement list and was curious as to his real age. When the commanding officer called the sergeant in to discuss the matter he asked the sergeant's age. The sergeant scratched his head and answered, embarrassedly, that he wasn't sure but he knew he started school when he was four and a half years old and was in school one sixth of his life. Then he got a job and worked for one-fifth of his life. When he quit that job he became a policeman and spent one fourth of his life at that. He had been in the army one third of his life. The commanding officer was amazed at the man's age. How old was the sergeant?

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(UP)—A general advance of fractions to more than a point brought the main list of stocks to within touching distance of the best level since 1929. The active short session today on the stock exchange.

Prices trended upward at the start which was active. Deals picked up thereafter and the market ran at a profit in the first hour. Moderate profit-taking came in the second hour but it was easily absorbed and the rise resumed before the close, leaving the market higher on the week.

Leadership of the steel shares and further gains in the utilities stood out in the early part. The former lost part of their gains but the latter held well with the average only 1-1/2 points under the high since 1929. Locomotive stocks continued to rise into new high ground. Motors met better support on outlook for a sharp step up in operations next week. This week's outturn was down about 6,000 units because of the holiday.

Of greatest encouragement to the trading elements was a rise in railroad shares which have been lagging of late. Gains in the group ranged from 1/2 to 3/4 points. The latter held well with the average only 1-1/2 points under the high since 1929. Locomotive stocks continued to rise into new high ground. Motors met better support on outlook for a sharp step up in operations next week. This week's outturn was down about 6,000 units because of the holiday.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Wheat prices advanced to the highest levels in three years on the Chicago Board of Trade today on a moderately heavy volume of buying. The new speculative interest in wheat which became apparent yesterday after reports of heavy buying of Argentine wheat by European countries again took control of the market. Prices advanced more than a cent a bushel without meeting selling.

Reports of continued dry weather in the wheat belt also was a bullish influence. Another factor was heavy export demand.

Corn and other cereals followed wheat, corn establishing new advances of a cent a bushel with the May delivery crossing the dollar mark.

Soy beans moved upward on a moderate volume of trading. Oats ruled higher and rye touched new high for the season in the May and July deliveries.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—(UP)—Utility and industrial issues led an advance in moderate bond trading today. U. S. governments firmed while foreign obligations were irregularly higher.

Abtibi 5s went to a new high at 117 1/2. American Foreign Power and other utilities improved. American Writing Paper issues featured industrials, going to new peaks on gains of more than 2 points. Sugars worked irregularly higher, Francisco 7 1/2s certificates gaining more than 2 points. Advances ranging from more than 2 points. Gains in the U. S. government group ranged to 6 points, with 2 maturities going to record highs. Foreign issues were featureless.

Weekly Citrus Review

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 28.—(UP)—This week was the first week for any real volume of sales on new crop lemons. Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, buying the first two days of the week was brisk at relatively higher prices, but at the close of the week, prices were lower.

Reports from eastern markets indicate that the eating quality of lemons is satisfactory. Cool nights and warm days throughout the growing district have improved the color and quality of the fruit. The market on California lemons was generally a little lower this week with a. o. b. California quotations on a. o. b. choice 300s on a basis of $4.50 to $4.75 per box; 250s, $4.00 to $4.25 and 42s $3.00 to $3.25.

DIFFERENT OPINIONS

Beginning Monday, The Register will start a series of articles by General Hugh Johnson and Heywood Brown. We will not have room to run both writers each day but will endeavor to select the most interesting article from one of the two writers.

The Register believes that both these writers are painters of wish-pictures, dreamers and not realists. We believe their aims are meritorious but their economic doctrines lead to misery, suffering and a lower standard of living.

The Register, however, is such a strong believer in having different ideas presented that it has selected these two writers who probably, as nearly as any other two writers, represent the philosophies of what we regard as impractical theorists. They have a very vivid way of expressing their opinion and we wish only that they could bring about the Utopia by the short-cut methods they propose. We believe they are striving for the same thing that The Register is striving for; namely, a higher standard of living for all workers. We believe it will be well for those who believe in this philosophy, as well as for those who do not believe in it, to read what they have to say. Then, by comparison and analysis, we can adopt any practical suggestions they might make and, by analysis, eliminate what they propose which is not practical and will result in a lower standard of living.

In starting these two features, let it be remembered that they are started not with the idea that The Register believes in their philosophy but it does believe that the readers will become better informed by reading their presentation and occasionally reading The Register's interpretation of the results of their impracticable short-cut methods of bringing about what we all desire—a better standard of living.

WHAT IS A FORUM?

It is difficult to understand how we can have intelligent public education unless controversial questions are publicly discussed by competent people on both sides, or how the public adult education movement can be very helpful when only one side is presented.

At the Dr. Studebaker meeting, one of the forum leaders inquired of Dr. Studebaker whether or not it was a real forum if only one speaker was prepared to discuss the subject. Dr. Studebaker acquiesced that it was not a real forum to have one side presented by someone who had prepared the subject and the other side was presented extemporaneously.

It seems rather inconsistent, under such circumstances, to have the government spend money on attempting to enlighten the people when they only present one side and refuse publicly to discuss any controversial question with speakers prepared on both sides.

To have only one side presented, invariably is nothing more than a lecture and is more pleasing and agreeable to the audience, undoubtedly the greater the attendance will be. It is a well known fact that the great majority of people like to hear what is pleasant and agreeable and any suggestions that promises ease and security with little exertion invariably is very attractive and draws a good audience.

If the professional educators are really interested in trying to create public opinion which will lead to a higher standard of living, it would seem they would have controversial questions presented at the public forum by prepared speakers of opposite beliefs. Otherwise, they are simply lectures and quite often might lead to creeping mental paralysis.

TAXES AND THE POOR

Frank Garbutt, columnist, capitalist and keen student of political economy, has aptly explained, in his column, who pays the most taxes in proportion to their ability to pay. His article on this subject is worth re-reading. It is as follows:

"Who pays the most taxes in proportion to their ability? The poor! On whom does the burden of excessive taxation fall most heavily? Again the poor!"

"There are two kinds of taxes—visible and invisible. Those of us who haven't good sense chortle with glee or shrug with indifference when any rich man or public corporation is soaked with taxes.

"We cannot believe that these taxes eventually come out of us, but they do; sometimes so directly that even a tyro can trace them, in increased cost of gas or electricity; sometimes so indirectly that our so-called political economists cannot see it, as in the case of a rich man's income or inheritance tax.

"So we vote for tax levies who soak the rich and soak ourselves instead, for it is the truth that when we allow anyone in our nation to be 'soaked,' whether rich or poor, it eventually affects everyone else.

"The invisible taxes come out of everybody's pocket, but they fall most heavily upon the poor. Approximately 35 per cent of what every poor man earns goes indirectly into the cost of government and becomes a direct but invisible burden upon the poor man himself.

"The only remedy is to force economy in government and reduce taxes."

EX-STUDENTS FORGET

Professor R. Van Scoyck of the Los Angeles and Hollywood evening high schools says "it is a lamentable fact that most persons consider that they have finished their education when they complete their school work. They go out into the world and unless they are engaged in some profession that makes definite use of their acquired knowledge, they are content to sink to the general mental level of others who obtain their information from the radio and the news headlines, without reading complete dispatches or correlating scattered items of information."

Tests recently made in the Los Angeles evening high school reveal that adults with only grammar school education, those with high school education and those with college education show no great difference in mental level ten years after they have completed their schooling.

It is an old truism that what you do not use, you lose. If a man does not use his mental faculties continuously, they cease to function.

CENSUS WILL TELL

The country's great need of an exact and authoritative census of the unemployed is graphically revealed by the great variations between the different estimates of the number of people who are out of work.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce believes that there are some 4,000,000 jobless. Harry Hopkins puts the number at upward of 7,000,000. The National Industrial Conference Board puts the total at 8,975,000. The Alexander Hamilton Institute says it is 10,887,000.

Doubtless all these estimates are made on different bases, so that if they were properly "weighted" there would be much less variance.

But the wide range they cover indicates very clearly that we shan't be able to get an intelligent idea of the real size of the unemployment problem until we have a definite count of heads.

BRIBERY SUGGESTIONS

H. L. Mencken suggests that sterilization of the incompetent might be accomplished by the old and tried device of bribery. On the subject, he says:

"Sterilization on a wholesale scale would greatly augment the solid happiness of all the economically, physically and mentally underprivileged, and at the same time save many a million for the taxpayer. Inflicting it by fiat, of course, would outrage the prevailing mores, which stand firmly against almost everything that is reasonable. But why should it not be prompted by the old and tried device of bribery? How many bogus farmers, East, West, North or South, could resist coming to the slaughterhouse if the ante were put, say, at $1000 a head? And wouldn't it be immensely cheaper, in the long run, to buy and scrap their biological potency than to support forever their hopeless and innumerable progeny?"

REGISTER CLEARING HOUSE

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas and are not necessarily the opinion of this newspaper. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

Editor Register: Dear Sir, An engaging article from the Pacific Press that is news and of interest to the taxpayers in general, the same condition prevails in regard to the dock strike, the taxpayer must be paying plenty.

N. E. MATTHEWS,
461 So. Bristol St., City.

Here is the article:

Agricultural leaders in the Santa Ana valley complain that the policy of the State of California in giving relief money to strikers affects the labor agitators an unfair share, and if continued will be disastrous. For instance a striker, who has a family, can draw $52 a month of taxpayers' money. In addition can collect $1 a day as a picket on the unions, and can get three meals a day at the Poodle Club, the poolhall headquarters of the union feeds its pickets. cannot get free meals for his family there, but he has a total of $52 a month to sustain them, while the labor agitator, who can get free board for himself in the unions.

this policy of using public money—the farmer's own money—to finance the same attempting to tie up the farmer's business is discontinued, we shall never have any industrial peace in the state.

They strongly endorse the suggestion of writing to Governor Frank Merriam at the State Capitol, Sacramento, and protesting the use of taxpayers' money to keep, in striking idleness, those who are striking against the marketing of the farmer's crops.

It should be understood that the strike is not a matter of money, but is a fight over preferential hiring which would force the closed shop on agriculture. The wages paid in the lettuce industry are high, much higher than is paid by canners and for the harvesting of other crops, and there has never been sufficient difference over wages to warrant a strike.

Editor, Register: Referring to your editorial of a few days ago, "Cause of It All," in which Dr. Ernest E. Hadley, Washington psychiatrist, says that excessive talking, drinking, and smoking may be traced back to interruptions of feeding during infancy. The following may be a logical deduction.

When little Willie's taking liquid nourishment. Don't you do a single thing the little one can resent. If you do then William can't develop apostolic. But may grow up to be a confirmed alcoholic.

If you catch little Mary partaking of the jam. Quite suspicious, don't alarm the little lamb. By no means take it from her nor develop apostolic. For as a debutante she may learn to smoke a pipe.

If the twins are swiping trophies from the pantry cookie jar. Don't whip the little culprits—just leave them as they are. For if you don't you'll ruin it—they'll use their adult breath. To talk you and the neighbors to a supervenal death.

Day By Day In Washington

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—What are American business men talking about, thinking and planning since the election?

A number of expressions made publicly are of a non-political nature and an atmosphere of conciliatory co-operation prevails. But this external attitude which somehow speaks a certain good sportsmanship savors in some quarters rather of the feeling that, when the New Deal won, business lost and that it is expedient tactics for the defeated to place themselves suppliantly at the feet of the victors.

I have been trying to find out from the business men who come and go here what the future holds in store. Do they believe now in a controlled economy when they fight it so vehemently before election? Do they acquiesce in the plan to revive the NRA and do they accept the proposal for a federal licensing system or federal incorporation of businesses?

The answers are not yet forthcoming because the truth is most of the business men with whom I have talked are waiting for President Roosevelt's message to congress and his second inaugural address to learn the direction which public affairs will take.

Meanwhile, it is pertinent to ask what do business men want? I asked Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors corporation, that question the other day. "What business wants most and needs most," he answered, "is definition. Whatever the merits of the laws may be, business men want to be governed by specific statements in those laws. The moment government becomes a matter of discretionary activity where in bureaucracy can make the laws then there is an interference with management. And when management is taken over in large part by government, there is an end to private initiative and government ownership is the inevitable result."

Mr. Sloan stated the point more succinctly than I have heard it from any business man recently, but I sense a growing opinion everywhere in favor of defining what business can and cannot do and leaving it to congress as the law-making body to do the work of definition instead of delegating it to commissions and bureaus to define. It was this latter kind of thing to which Justice Cardozo in his famous concurring opinion in the Schechter NRA case referred as "delegation run riot."

It would not be surprising if the functional side of government became more and more a matter of debate rather than the economic considerations or even the social justice obligations that are being interpreted as arising out of the mandate given the president in the recent election.

Take the broad objectives of the administration. I do not find serious dissent among business men, especially of the liberal school, with the broad purposes of the Roosevelt program. Nor is this just an after-the-election hand-wagon spirit on their part. Look, for instance, at the address delivered by Mr. Sloan before the Boston Chamber of Commerce on April 26, 1934. In it will be found a declaration in favor of giving chief executive power to negotiate reciprocity agreements with foreign nations. In it, too, will be found these significant paragraphs:

"No reasonable individual can disagree over the desirability of a minimum wage; of restrictions as to child labor; of a gradual reduction in the hours of labor—a reduction on an economic basis and coincident with the decline in the cost of production. On the other hand, arbitrary reductions are unsound, for, even if accompanied with a corresponding increase in the wage rate, while providing more jobs at the moment, they must bring a reduction in the purchasing power of the individual worker."

"To expand the total amount of employment, we should increase the spread between the necessities of life and the income to enable the individual to purchase and consume more of all that is essential to the American standard of living. Entirely aside from the economic phases of this question, the fact remains that the American worker in most industries is no longer concerned with an opportunity to work a reasonable number of hours at a fair and equitable rate in order to be able to buy those things which he has found to be necessary to well-being. This is particularly essential in industries having a wide seasonal fluctuation."

"I have little patience with the principle that the less we produce, the more prosperous we become; or again, with the widely held notion that through mass production and the instrumentalities of machinery we have reached a chronic state of overproduction. To my mind, our problem is not one of overproduction—it is one of grave maladjustment. Overproduction in general is impossible until every one who is willing to work has at least those things to which he is entitled, on the basis of the value of his work."

"If this be true, there is no overproduction of old things—and there is certainly a vast opportunity for the production of new things. It is not a standardization of the processes of production that constitutes our danger, but a standardization or static state of the minds of all that we are not at the end but at the beginning of our development, there would result a tremendous broadening of our vision and an appreciation of the vast opportunities before us."

Business is an intangible thing comprising many influences and many forces, some of them, of course, conflicting and competitive with each other. But the speech of Mr. Sloan just quoted illustrates by its very positiveness the difficulty of interpreting the trend of business thinking.

The common denominator, however, at the moment would seem to have been expressed by Mr. Sloan in his informal comment when he says, in effect, that if regulation of business by government is here, then let it be specific, determinative, and clear-cut so that adjustments can be made without that

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

ON MAKING CONGRESS SUPREME

For some days I have been describing various proposals for reforming the relation of the supreme court to social and economic legislation. Following the outline offered by Robert E. Cushman of Cornell university, in his pamphlet on The Supreme Court and the Constitution, I have described to date four proposals, viz:

(1) Packing the court.
(2) Limiting the jurisdiction of the court.

(3) Requiring a seven-to-two decision for invalidation of an act of congress.

(4) Giving congress the power to veto a supreme court decision on constitutionality by a two-thirds vote of both houses.

Still another proposal that some have advanced is that we should take away from the supreme court altogether the authority to declare acts of congress unconstitutional.

This proposal comes primarily from social and economic reformers whose legislation has been voided by the supreme court.

If only congress be made supreme, they think, all would be well, with the track cleared for reform unhindered by questions of constitutionality.

It can hardly be argued that democratic self-government is impossible without the sort of judicial review we have, since the case of Great Britain disproves any such contention.

It is well to remember, however, that British legislators have had long training in taking full responsibility for the results of their legislation, while American legislators have long had their legislative thinking colored by the knowledge of the supreme court's standing in the background with a final word. This has made some legislators more cautious than they would otherwise be. It has made others more reckless on the assumption that they can tickle the crowd that wants something by voting for it with full knowledge that it will not get to first base with the supreme court.

Wiping out judicial review by the supreme court would undoubtedly clear the track for much current reform, but it would also clear the track for unlimited invasion of the civil liberties guaranteed by the Bill of Rights if and when the current worldwide passion for control from the center captured a session of the congress.

It would, I think, be a dangerous thing to wipe out the fact of judicial review at this time.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

OCTOBER AND MAY

A girl of eighteen is very unhappy, she writes, because she loves a man of thirty-eight, a widower, very handsome and gallant, her dream of a lover. Her father and mother are stern in their opposition and insist that she drop him. They are planning to take her abroad so that she may forget.

"But I can never forget him. He is the only man I will ever love. He is sensible. He understands me better than my own father and mother. He can take care of me. Would I be wrong to elope with him?"

Wrong? The child would be out of her mind to do such a thing. The man ought to know better, probably does. Twenty years between eighteen and thirty-eight is too wide a span to be safe. Since when did Eighteen want to be talked to sensibly? The love of Eighteen is delicious delight, something that common sense flies from in dismay. That in itself should tell the child that she is not in love. She is flattered, but she is not responding to her true love.

As to being understood she can rest assured that her father and mother understand very well what is going on, and they are doing their best to save her. They were once eighteen; they were once in a delirious dream that enveloped them both in its rosy mist. They thoroughly understand their child, and what is more, they love her with a love that passes that of the widower of thirty-eight. Did he truly love her he would not try to steal her Youth for himself.

When did Eighteen worry about having someone to take care of her? Again she proves to the experienced father and mother that she is not in love. Love knows no care for tomorrow, takes no heed of what he shall eat or what he shall wear. He needs no food and he needs no clothes. All he needs in his little arrow safely embedded in a throbbing young heart. Then to the winds with care. No, no. Eighteen is not in love when she counts a man's ability to take care of her among love's assets.

My word to any young girl who is so unfortunate as to think herself in love with an older man, would be to try with might and main to find other interests. Seek new pastures. Play with the boys and girls her own age, finally marrying one of the boys because she counts the world well lost without him.

The right kind of a marriage is the happiest association a man and woman can experience. Any mistake in the selection of a mate is a tragedy that time can cover, but never heal. It is idle, I know, to talk to young things about this, but one tries in the hope of averting disaster, in preserving the great opportunity for a lifetime of joy.

Two people have to do enough adjusting when they are close in age, in interests, in traditions, in hopes. When there is a wide span of age such an adjustment is about hopeless. The woman of forty and the man of sixty—impossible. The dancing girl and the student, the religious girl and the liberally minded, liberally behaving young man, the man devoted to his creed and his race and the girl equally devoted to another creed and another race, offer grave hazards rarely taken with success. But twenty years of time between them? Better not. Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. (Copyright, 1936, The Bell Syn. Inc.)
